

1937
GREEN
& GRAY

L

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2017 with funding from Loyola University Maryland, Office of Academic Affairs

https://archive.org/details/greengray00loyo_11

THE GREEN AND GRAY

1937

Published by THE SENIOR CLASS

LOYOLA COLLEGE

Baltimore

Maryland

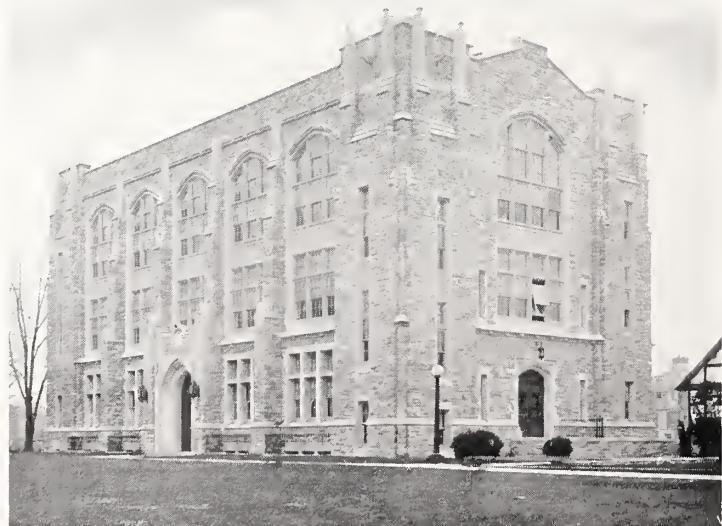

Dedication

We, of the class of 1937, feel that we have been singularly blessed in our associations at Loyola. This record, inadequate as it is, seeks to perpetuate in its 1 w pages all we have done and thought and felt during our stay here. At the same time we would have it express in some measure the depth of our gratitude to those who by their sacrifices have made Loyola a reality for us. Therefore we respectfully dedicate the 1937 GREEN AND GRAY to . . . Our Parents.

FOREWORD

*Whilst we are young and these memories bloom
And the hand still guides the pen,
Let us write our deeds,
Let us name these men,
Lest the years cloud them in gloom.*

*When we are old and these memories fade
And seem to pass away,
Then read our deeds
And name these men,
And our labors will be repaid.*

CONTENTS

BOOK I	GRADUATES
BOOK II	UNDERGRADUATES
BOOK III	ORGANIZATIONS
BOOK IV	ATHLETICS
BOOK V	FEATURES

REV. JOSEPH A. CANNING, S.J.
President

1937

GREEN AND GRAY

REV. LAWRENCE C. GORMAN, S.J.
Dean

REV. JOHN M. JACOBS, S.J.

Dean of Men

REV. F. M. GILLIS, S.J.
Professor of Ethics and Apologetics

REV. JOSEPH F. BEGLAN, S.J.
Professor of Psychology and Apologetics

REV. A. M. FREMGEN, S.J.
Professor of English, Apologetics and Greek

REV. JOSEPH DIDUSCH, S.J.
Professor of Biology

REV. RICHARD B. SCHMITT,
S.J.
Professor of Chemistry

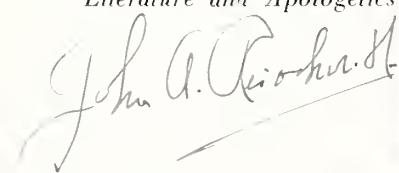

REV. JOHN J. GEOGHAN, S.J.
Professor of Philosophy

REV. JOHN A. RISACHER, S.J.

Professor of Classical Literature and Apologetics

REV. THOMAS J. LOVE, S.J.

*Professor of Mathematics
and Physics*

REV. JOSEPH J. AYD, S.J.

Professor of Sociology and Economics

REV. JOHN G. HACKER, S.J.

Professor of German

MR. JOSEPH C. KELLY, S.J.

Professor of Latin and English

MR. VINCENT P. McCORRY,
S.J.

Professor of Latin and English

MR. MICHAEL T. FLANAGAN
*Professor of Mathematics
and Physics*

DR. EDWARD A. DOEPLER,
PH.D.
Professor of History

DR. CHARLES H. HARRY,
PH.D.
*Professor of Mathematics
and Physics*

DR. NORMAN J.
HACKERMAN, PH.D.
Professor of Physical Chemistry

MR. JOHN B. EGERTON, A.M.
Professor of Mathematics and Biology

MR. JAMES O. SCRIMGER,
A.M.
Professor of French

*"'Tis time to leave the books in dust,
And oil the unused armour's rust . . ."*

—MARVELL

BOOK ONE

GRADUATES

*Jacque George AydJACQUE GEORGE AYD, A.B.

"The bearded Sociologist . . . plays the piano like Jack Benny plays the violin . . . good-humored pipe-smoker forever without a match."

Activities

Sodality, 1-2-3-4; League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Bellarmine Debating Society, 4; Jenkins Debating Society, 1; Chemists' Club, 2-3-4; Mendel Club, 2-3; Social Science Club, 4, President, 4; Varsity Boxing, 1; Class Athletics, 1-2-3-4; Green and Gray, 4; Vigilance Committee, 2.

BERNARD JOHN BARRANGER, A.B.

"Martinelli off key . . . a plump Tarzan in civilian clothes . . . fervent defender of personal rights."

Activities

Sodality, 1-2-3-4; League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Chemists' Club, 2-3-4; Jenkins Debating Society, 1; History Academy, 2-3-4; Mendel Club, 2; Social Science Club, 4; Class Basketball, 1-2-3; Class Football, 1-2; Glee Club, 3-4; Vigilance Committee, 2; Holy Name Society, 3-4.

B.J. Barranger

Charles ...
CHARLES LEO BOKEMEYER, A.B.

"The Simon Legree of the Library . . . Generalissimo of the books at home and abroad . . . heady poker player."

Activities

Sodality, 1-2-3-4; League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Bellarmine Debating Society, 2-3-4; Jenkins Debating Society, 1; Chemists Club, 2; Social Science Club, 4; Green and Gray, 4; Glee Club, 3-4; Dramatics, Stage Crew, 3; Chess Club, 1-2.

THOMAS EDWARD BRACKEN, Ph.B.

"Poker-faced thinker . . . one-man athletic club . . . loyal Loyolan."

Activities

Sodality, 1-2-3-4; League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Sanctuary Society, 1-2-3-4; Mission Unit, 1-2-3-4, President, 4; Bellarmine Debating Society, Inter-Collegiate Debate, 1; Jenkins Debating Society, 1; Chemists Club, 2; History Academy, 2-3-4; Social Science Club, 4; Varsity Football, 1; Varsity Boxing, 1; Varsity Baseball, 2-3-4; Class Baseball, 1; Class Football, 2; Class Indoor Baseball, 1-2-3-4; Class Basketball, 1-2-4; Green and Gray, 4; Student Council, 4; Chairman Vigilance Committee, 2; Cotillion Board, 2; S. I. A. C., 2-3.

Tom Bracken

HENRY JOSEPH BROSENNE. A.B.

"Collegiate Isaac Walton . . . gentleman farmer in the field of Pharmacology . . . zealous class patriot."

Activities

Sodality, 1-2-3-4; League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Sanctuary Society, 1-2-3-4; Mission Unit, 1; Jenkins Debating Society, 1; Chemists' Club, 2; History Academy, 3-4; Social Science Club, 4; Class Athletics, 1-4.

Henry J. Brosenne

WILLARD ELLSWORTH CADELL, Ph.B.

"Little man, big stuff . . . plus contagious smile . . . happy-go-lucky suburbanite with a quaint dialect."

Activities

Jenkins Debating Society, 1; Chemists' Club, 2; History Academy, 3-4; Social Science Club, 4; Class Indoor Baseball, 1-2-3-4; Class Basketball, 1-2-3-4.

Willie Cadele

Tom Carney

THOMAS BIRCH CARNEY, Ph.B.

"Esquire's conception of a college athlete . . . suave restauranteur . . . perennial All-Maryland basketer."

Activities

League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Jenkins Debating Society, 1; Chemists' Club, 2; History Academy, 3-4; Social Science Club, 1; Varsity Basketball, 1-2-3-4; Varsity Baseball, 1-2-3-4; Class Football, 1; Class Indoor Baseball, 1-2-3-4; Vigilance Committee, 2; S. I. A. C., 2-3.

ROBERT HENRY CONANT, B.S.

"One-half of Senior Math . . . quiet chemical efficiency . . . long distance day-hop . . . astute Scholastic."

Activities

League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Sanctuary Society, 3-4; Jenkins Debating Society, 1; Chemists' Club, Representative, 1; Librarian, 2-3; Vice President, 4; Class Basketball, 3; Class Indoor Baseball, 2-3; Holy Name, 3-4.

Bob Conant

MICHAEL LOUIS DEVINCENTIS, B.S.

"Able Philosopher . . . sharp scientist . . . Medical aspirant . . . and still a good fellow."

Activities

Sodality, 1-2-3-4; League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Jenkins Debating Society, 1; Chemists' Club, 1-2-3-4, Secretary, 4, Librarian, 3; Mendel Club, 2-3-4; Social Science Club, 4; Class Basketball, 2-3; Class Indoor Baseball, 2-3; Prom Committee, 3.

M. L. De Vincentis

ELMER JOSEPH DUNNE, B.S.

"Unobtrusive, athletic, conscientious . . . fugitive from a Lighthouse . . . homogeneous mixture of chemical physicist and physical chemist.

Elmer J. Dunne
Activities

Sodality, 1; League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Jenkins Debating Society, 1; Chemists' Club, 1-2-3-4. Vice President, 3; Social Science Club, 4; Varsity Football, 1; Class Football, 2; Class Basketball, 1-2-3; Class Indoor Baseball, 1-2-3-4; Green and Gray, 4; Student Council, 2-3; Vigilance Committee, 2; Prom Committee, 3; Class Secretary, 3-4; S. I. A. C., 2-3; Holy Name Society, 3-4, Representative, 4.

Anthony P. Dzwulski

ANTHONY PETER DZIWULSKI, A.B.

"Man of strength . . . man of thought . . . man of decision . . . genial judiciary of the cafeteria clique . . . man mountain."

Activities

Sodality, 1-2-3-4; League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Jenkins Debating Society, 1; Chemists' Club, 2; History Academy, 3-4; Mendel Club, 2; Social Science Club Vice-President, 4; Class Athletics, 1-2-3-4; Dramatics, 3.

THOMAS JOSEPH EMORY, A.B.

"Thin man about town . . . pert purveyor of dubious wit . . . veteran trouper in the character role . . . the baritone canary."

Activities

Sodality, 1-2; League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Sanctuary Society, 1; Bellarmine Debating Society President, 4; Jenkins Debating Society, 1; Chemists' Club, 2; Class Athletics, 1-2-3-4; Greyhound, 1-2; Green and Gray, 4; Glee Club, 3-4; Mask and Rapier Club, 3-4, President, 4; Poetry Society, 3-4.

MARTIN HENNEBERRY, A.B.

"Metaphysician from Manhattan . . . worker of the good earth . . . torpid genius of elective English."

Activities

League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Sanctuary Society, 2-3-4; Chemists' Club, 2; Poetry Society, 2-3-4.

FRANCIS JAMES HOLTZNER, B.S.

"Cool, fresh air, a pipe and a cheery smile . . . wiry strong man of the class . . . quietly dependable."

Activities

Sodality, 1-2-3-4; League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Jenkins Debating Society, 1; Chemists' Club, 2-3-4; History Academy, 3; Mendel Club, 2-3; Social Science Club, 4; Varsity Boxing, 1; Class Football, 1-2; Class Soccer, 2; Class Indoor Baseball, 1-2-3-4; Vigilance Committee, 2; Holy Name Society, 3-4.

Fritz Holtzner

Frank Keidel

FRANCIS MATTHEW KEIDEL, A.B.

"Ardent basketball fan . . . Ethics dissenter . . . tied by a petti-cord . . . signed, sealed and delivered."

Activities

Sodality, 2-3; League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Sanctuary Society, 3; Jenkins Debating Society, 1; Chemists' Club, 2-3-4; Mendel Club, 2-3, Treasurer, 3; Social Science Club, 4; Varsity Golf, 1-2-3-4, Captain, 4; Class Athletics, 1-2-3-4; Green and Gray, 4; Junior Prom Committee, 3; Student Council, 4; Class Secretary, 2; Vigilance Committee, 2.

FRANCIS HOWARD KIDD, JR., B.S.

"Known as the 'late' Mr. Kidd . . . exponent of the daily good deed and life in the rough . . . tamer of the paramecium . . . witty minion of Morpheus."

Activities

Sodality, 1-4; League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Mission Unit, 1; Bellarmine Debating Society, 4; Jenkins Debating Society, 1; Chemists' Club, 1-2-3-4; Mendel Club, 2-3-4, Vice-President, 4; Social Science Club, 4; Greyhound, 3-4; Green and Gray, 4; Glee Club, 3-4; Chess Club, 1-2.

H. Howard Kidd Jr.

WILLIAM JOSEPH LITTLE, Ph.B.

"Paid-up member in the N. U. S. J., . . . can be awakened at any time by whispering: 'Fr. Coughlin' at the opposite end of the room or hall . . . theme song: 'The Touch of Your Hand.'"

Activities

Sodality, 1-2-3-4; League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Bellarmino Debating Society, 2-3-4; Jenkins Debating Society, 1; Prize Debate, 1-2; Chemists' Club, 2; History Academy, 2-3-4; Social Science Club, 4; Chess Club, 1-2; Contemporary History Seminar, 3.

BERNARD BONAVENTURA LOCHTE, JR.
B.S.

"Loquacious lecturer on trivia . . . connoisseur of the arts . . . loyal supporter of Loyola."

Activities

Sodality, 1-2-3-4; League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Sanctuary Society, 3-4; Mission Unit, 1-2-3-4; Jenkins Debating Society, 1; Chemists' Club, 1-2-3-4; Social Science Club, 4; Green and Gray, 4; Junior Prom Committee, 3.

JOSEPH JENKINS MACK, Ph.B.

"Pessimistic business man . . . Sodality stalwart . . . conscientious objector . . . sartorial satellite."

Activities

Sodality, 1-2-3-4; Prefect, 4; League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Sanctuary Society, 1-2-3-4; Mission Unit, 1-2-3-4; Bellarmine Debating Society, 4; Jenkins Debating Society, 2; History Academy, 2-3-4; Social Science Club, 4; Business Manager of Greyhound, 1-2-3-4; Green and Gray, 4; Holy Name Society, 1-2-3-4; Junior Prom Committee, 3; Cotillion Board, 2; Football Manager, 1; Class Vice President, 2-3-4; Student Council, 4.

Joe Mack

J. LEO MARTIN, B.S.

"The other half of Senior Math . . . unconcerned possessor of senile Stetson . . . example of mind over matter."

Activities

Sodality, 1-2-4; League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Sanctuary Society, 1; Mission Unit, 1; Chemists' Club, 1-2-3-4; Librarian, 4; Dramatics, 3; Holy Name Society, 3-4; Chess Club, 1-2; Chemistry Seminar, 2.

J. Leo Martin

BENJAMIN PETER MARSZAL, A.B.

"Cafeteria Controversialist . . . blonde dancing master . . . rotund curator of the Library."

Activities

Sodality, 1-2-3; League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Jenkins Debating Society, 1; Chemists' Club, 2; History Academy, 2-3-4; Social Science Club, 4; Class Football, 1-2; Class Basketball, 1-2-3; Class Indoor Baseball, 1-2-3-4; Vigilance Committee, 2; Soccer, 2.

WILLIAM DANIEL McGONIGLE, A.B.

"Keen Coughlinite . . . Greyhound Alumni researcher . . . Friday Night pokerite . . ."

Activities

Sodality, 1-2-3-4; League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Sanctuary Society, 1-2-3-4; Jenkins Debating Society, 1; Chemists' Club, 2; History Academy, 2-3-4; Social Science Club, 4; Class Athletics, 2; Greyhound, 2-3-4; Alumni Editor, 3; Green and Gray, 4; Glee Club, 3-4; Big Brotherhood, 3-4; Class Representative, 3; Chess Club, 1-2.

W. D. McGonigle.

JOSEPH O'NEILL MILLER, A.B.

"The Beefing Beethoven . . . militant Nazi . . . devotee of his namesake—Joe Miller."

Activities

Sodality, 1-2; League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Mission Unit, 1; Jenkins Debating Society, 1; History Academy, 2-3; Mendel Club, 4; Social Science Club, 4; Class Athletics, 1-2; Greyhound, 3; Glee Club, 3-4.

Joe Miller

LAWRENCE TRAINOR MULLEN, A.B.

"Deadline Larry . . . classical pianist of the cafeteria . . . dimpled disciple of Terpsichore."

Larry Mullen

Activities

Sodality, 1-2-3-4; League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Jenkins Debating Society, 1; Chemists' Club, 2; History Academy, 4; Social Science Club, 4; Greyhound, 1-2-3-4; Managing Editor, 3; Editor-in-Chief, 4; Green and Gray, 4; Glee Club, 3-4; Big Brotherhood, 3-4; Poetry Society, 1-2-3-4; Vice President, 4; Chess Club, 1-2; Holy Name Society, 3-4; Junior Prom Committee, 3.

CHARLES CARROLL MURPHY, A.B.

"Irish wit in technicolor . . . nonchalant master of higher learning and the quick retort . . . expert on the American Penal System."

Activities

Sodality, 1-2-3-4; League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Mission Unit, 1-2; Jenkins Debating Society, 1; Chemists' Club, 2-3-4; Class Representative, 4; Mendel Club, 2-3; Social Science Club, 4; Class Basketball, 1-2-3; Class Indoor Baseball, 1-2-3-4; Green and Gray, 4; Junior Prom Committee, 3; Holy Name Society, 3-4.

Carroll Murphy

JOSEPH VERNON NIEMOELLER, A.B.

"Retired Chemist . . . unconcerned virtuoso of the tennis racquet and ping-pong paddle . . . an exterior expression insulated and calculated to give the lie to a quick wit."

Activities

Sodality, 1-2-3-4; League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Sanctuary Society, 3; Mission Unit, 1; Jenkins Debating Society, 1; Chemists' Club, 2-3-4; Social Science Club, 4; Varsity Tennis, 2-3-4; Captain, 4; Class Athletics, 1-2-3-4; Green and Gray, 4; J. V. Basketball, 1; Holy Name Society, 3-4.

*Joseph
Niemoller*

JAMES JOSEPH PATRICK NOLAN, B.S.

"Gentlemanly hermit of the Science building . . . 'Father, what's wrong with the proof in the book?'"

Activities

Sodality, 4; League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Jenkins Debating Society, 1; Chemists' Club, 1-2-3-4; Mendel Club, 2-3-4; Social Science Club, 4; Varsity Tennis, 4; Class Athletics, 1; Holy Name, 3-4.

Jim Nolan

WILLIAM JOSEPH O'DONNELL, A.B.

"A potential Babbitt with a sense of humor . . . fat man about town . . . shrewd sports analyst."

Activities

Sodality, 1-2-3-4; Secretary, 1; Class Representative, 2-3-4; Bellarmine Debating Society, 4; Jenkins Debating Society, 1; Chemists' Club, 2; History Academy, 2-3-4; President, 4; Basketball, Assistant Manager, 1-2-3, Manager, 4; Class Football, 1-2; Class Basketball, 2-3-4; Class Baseball, 1-2-3; Greyhound, 2-3-4; Sports Editor, 3-4; Green and Gray Co-editor, 4; Mask and Rapier Society, 3-4; Big Brotherhood, 3-4; Junior Prom Committee, 3; Holy Name, 3-4, Representative, 4; Social Science Club, 4.

Bill O'Donnell

JOHN CARLTON OSBORNE, B.S.

"White-coated Dictator of the Inorganic Lab . . . diminutive politician of the Chemists' Club."

Activities

Sodality, 1-2-3-4; League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Jenkins Debating Society, 1; Chemists' Club, 1-2-3-4; Librarian, President, 4; Mendel Club, 2-3-4; Greyhound, 2; Chess Club, 1-2, Secretary-Treasurer, 2; Chemistry Seminar, 2; Holy Name Society, 3-4.

John F. Osborne

DONALD MATTHEW POWERS, A.B.

"Our Prex . . . mailed fist in a velvet glove . . . student by day. Don Juan by night."

Activities

Sodality, 1-2-3-4; League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Sanctuary Society, 4; Mission Unit, 1; Jenkins Debating Society, 1; Chemists' Club, 2-3-4; Social Science Club, 4; Varsity Baseball, 1-2-3-4; Class Basketball, 3-4; Class Indoor Baseball, 1-2-3-4; Green and Gray Managing Editor, 4; Student Council, 1-2-3-4, President, 4; Vigilance Committee, 2; Junior Prom Committee Chairman, 3; Class President, 1-2-3-4; Cotillion Board, 2; Holy Name, 3-4. Representative, 4.

Dan Powers

HUGO ANTHONY RICCIUTI, A.B.

"Genial Latin host . . . informal debater . . . active Intra-muralist . . . Fascist Loyolan."

Activities

Sodality, 3-4; League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Jenkins Debating Society, 1; Chemists' Club, 2; History Academy, 2-3-4; Social Science Club, 4; Class Football, 1-2; Class Indoor Baseball, 1-2-3-4; Class Soccer, 2; Interclass Basketball, 1-2-3-4.

EDWARD MICHAEL RUSSELL, Ph.B.

"The Colonel . . . veteran handicapper . . . irrepressible promoter . . . garrulous dispenser of foodstuffs and philosophy."

Activities

Sodality, 1-2-3-4; Chemists' Club, 2; History Academy, 2; Social Science Club, 4; Varsity Basketball, 2-3-4; Class Athletics, 1; Holy Name Society, 4.

Ed Russell

WILLIAM ANTHONY SMITH, A.B.

"Virile Thespian . . . tempestuous journalist . . . walking Thesaurus . . . spirited athlete."

Activities

Sodality, 1-2-3-4; League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Bellarmine Debating Society, 4; Jenkins Debating Society, 1; Chemists' Club, 2; Varsity Baseball, 2-3-4; Class Baseball, 1; Class Football, 1-2; Class Indoor Baseball, 1-2-3-4; Class Basketball, 1-2-3-4; Greyhound, 3-4; Green and Gray Co-editor, 4; Dramatics, 3-4; Student Council, 4; Vigilance Committee, 2; Holy Name Society, 3-4; Intramural Boxing Champion, 1; S. I. A. C., 2-3.

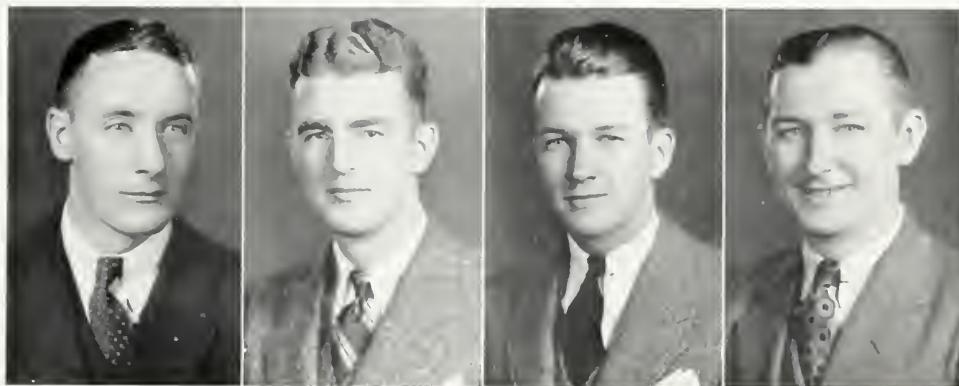

JOHN BERNARD WELLS, JR., B.S.

"Non-committal guardian of the Exchequer . . . has medical ambitions and a fine bedside manner . . . No. 1 outdoor man."

Activities

B Wells Jr.
Sodality, 3-4; League of the Sacred Heart, 1-2-3-4; Sanctuary Society, 4; Mission Unit, 1-2-3-4; Jenkins Debating Society, 1; Chemists' Club, 1-2-3-4, Secretary, 3; Mendel Club, 2-3-4, Treasurer and Executive Council, 4; Class Athletics, 1-2-3-4; Green and Gray, 4; Dramatics, 3-4, Stage Manager, 3-4; Class Treasurer, 2-3-4; Chairman of Prom Finances, 3; Cotillion Board, 1-2-3-4; Vigilance Committee, 2; Holy Name Society, 3-4.

WELLS

POWERS

MACK

DUNNE

Class History

DONALD M. POWERS	President
JOSEPH J. MACK	Vice-President
JOHN B. WELLS, JR.	Treasurer
ELMER J. DUNNE	Secretary

1

The writing of a history of any class is constrained within the limits which time places upon all men's actions. Every class, with very little exception, engages in the same activities which occupied its predecessors and will occupy its successors, but each feels as if their experiences were just a little different from those of all other classes. The men of '37 are no different. In retrospect we feel that our experiences were unique. In recording them we feel that history indeed repeats itself.

We gathered for the first time in September of the year 1933. That class was the largest group of Freshmen ever seen at Loyola. It proved to be an enthusiastic one because the football team, the last to represent Loyola, was augmented by ten of our number. Tom Bracken and Elmer Dunne did notable service in the short, lamented gridiron era.

The persecution of the Sophomores befell us suddenly as per schedule and with it came the realization that at last we were truly Loyola men. The yoke was finally cast off in the traditional football battle which was one of the most thrilling contests of this long and honorable series. After being pushed around for three quarters, Marszal blocked a punt and Barbour recovered on the opponents' eight-yard line. On the next play Bill Smith bucked the distance for the only touchdown of the game. Our freedom was declared to the score of 6 to 2.

Meanwhile, Don Powers was chosen to guide the destinies of the Class of '37. This was an auspicious start for Mr. Powers was destined to be recalled thrice more and much of our later success was owing to his heady management. Frank Keidel as secretary and O'Neill Miller as treasurer were his assistants.

Social duties were no burden and plans for the Freshman Hop progressed smoothly. This, our first venture, was held at the Cadoa with Jim Bradley furnishing the music. It was pronounced a success.

Basketball next claimed our attention. Tom Carney embarked on his career of brilliant playing for the Green and Gray and immediately demonstrated that future Greyhound plans for success must include him.

The opening of the boxing season found us more than well represented. Tom Bracken, Fritz Holtzner and Belden Burns proved to be mainstays of the Varsity and turned in impressive records.

Although disorganized Freshmen, we welcomed the Intramural program with open arms. The Frosh were overwhelmed in the basketball tournament but learned a trick or two which were to be useful in future campaigns. The boxing tournament aroused keen interest throughout the school. The Freshman entry was curtailed because of the number of men who fought on the varsity squad. Bill Smith was successful in four encounters and was 155-lb. champion. The soft-ball league was next and again we found the competition a bit stiff although a creditable showing was made.

The coming of Spring found the baseball enthusiasts champing at the bit. A Freshman team was organized and a fine schedule arranged. Our efforts were crowned with abundant success. This enthusiasm was contracted by the rest of the school and keen interest was once more aroused in the resumption of Baseball as a varsity sport.

II

We returned for the second year to find that our number had been practically cut in half. Varsity football and boxing had been abolished and substitutes for these activities were sought. One such was the ill-fated intramural football league. The big and husky Sophomore aggregation boasted a wealth of veteran material but was slow in rounding into shape. The light but scrappy Frosh held us to a 2 to 0 victory in the league game. In the championship game the Seniors whipped us 12 to 0.

In the meantime class elections were held and Donald M. Powers was re-elected President. Joseph J. Mack was elected Vice-President; John B. Wells became Treasurer, and Francis M. Keidel, Secretary. Immediately the Vigilance Committee took over the campus and exercised its prerogative of persecution. The annual Frosh-Soph game resulted in a moral victory since, for the first time in recent years, the Sophs did not suffer defeat. A scoreless tie was the result.

In accordance with time-honored custom the Sophomore Frolic inaugurated another year of social functions. The superb Merchant's Club lent a great deal of atmosphere to this highly successful affair. This was the first of several Loyola dances held at the same location.

Tom Emory, Joe Mack and Larry Mullen upheld the Sophomore name in journalism through their efforts on the Greyhound staff.

Tom Carney played so well on the Basketball team that he was unanimous choice for All-State honors. Loyola came within a game of being crowned State champions but lost two games out of three in the play-off with Mt. St. Mary's. Ed. Russell also showed promise.

In intramurals the Sophomore team gained the runner-up position in the basketball tournament and the Soph Ph.B.-B.S. combination was nosed out in the playoffs after leading through the regular season.

Tom Bracken, Tom Carney, Don Powers and Bill Smith saw their dreams come true when the college formally adopted baseball as a varsity sport.

III

We reassembled in the halls of Loyola in September, 1935, with our numbers thinned to thirty-seven. Our first important duty was the election of officers who would decide our course of action for the Junior Prom. Don Powers was elected President for the third time; Joe Mack was re-elected Vice-President; John Wells took over the important office of treasurer while Elmer Dunne was made Secretary.

The Juniors were the class of the fall soft-ball tournament and were undefeated. Larry Mullen took over his duties as editor of the Greyhound and with him went

Bill McGonigle, Bill O'Donnell and Bill Smith as feature writers and Joe Mack as advertising manager.

Once again the class of '37 was a power in the basketball tournament and once again we finished one game outside the championship. It seemed to be rapidly becoming a habit when, after our brilliant fall record and league play in the Spring soft-ball tournament, our soft-ball team lost both playoffs to the Sophomores.

After months of effort the long-awaited Prom became a reality. To say that it was a success is to tell but half the truth. The nationally famous music of Ted Fiorito provided the background for the event which was the climax of a very happy and successful year. Few, indeed, will forget the Junior Prom of the Class of 1937 and certainly no member of the class will forget it for some time to come.

IV

In September, 1936, thirty-five Seniors went in for the last quarter of the game of obtaining a college education. It became immediately evident that they had two strong opponents in Psychology and Ethics but they weakened not, neither did they fall.

At the first class meeting all of our previous officers were unanimously re-elected to carry on for another year which meant that Don Powers became President for the fourth successive term and also ex-officio President of the Student Council. As soon as it was decided to have a yearbook it became apparent that our officers would have to bear a burden only slightly less than that imposed by the Junior Prom.

As is the custom, practically all of the executive positions in the various extra-curricular organizations were held by members of the Senior Class. The class had representatives in every extra-curricular activity.

The Seniors emerged victorious in the Fall Speedball tournament having won four games, tied one and lost none. When Coach Liston called the Basketball squad for practice Tom Carney and Ed Russell responded again. Tom Carney achieved the well-deserved honor of being on the All-Maryland team.

In the intramural basketball league the Seniors ended in second place after a series of contests in which they were finally forced to yield to the Juniors.

The first Senior social event was a Christmas dance held in the Library on the evening of December 29th. The excellent music for the affair was furnished by Earle Simpson's Orchestra. Another dance was held on April 1st when a gay group of dancers stepped to the music of Bob Craig's band. Both of these affairs were held for the benefit of the "Green and Gray."

With the yearbook about to go to press, with our final exams swiftly approaching and with most of the Seniors nursing headaches over their Senior theses, we realize that the day is not far distant when we, the Class of 1937, must end our days at Loyola and bid a fond farewell to her hallowed halls.

SENIOR WHO'S WHO

Best Student	Bokemeyer	Most Radical	Little
Best Athlete	Carney	Favorite Period	Sociology
Best Sport	Holtzner	Best Artist	Smith
Best Dancer	Marszal	Most Loyal	Powers
Best Dressed	Lochte	Best Crooner	Powers
Quietest	Nolan	Sleepiest	Little
Best Writer	Mullen	Handsomest	Nolan
Most Popular	Powers	Tallest	Russell
Funniest	Russell	Youngest	Little
Favorite Sport	Basketball	Most Energetic	Mack
Best Musician	Miller	Wittiest	Miller
Best Speaker	Bokemeyer

*"That age is best which is the first,
When youth and blood are warmer . . ."*

—HERRICK

BOOK TWO

UNDERGRADUATES

JUNIOR CLASS

MAHONEY

CAREY

GEHRING

DEVLIN

Junior Class History

RICHARD CAREY	President
EDWIN A. GEHRING	Vice-President
HARRY DEVLIN	Treasurer
WILLIAM MAHONEY	Secretary

Back to the peaceful lawns and quiet halls of Evergreen came the Class of '38 to begin their third year as Loyolans. Freshman shyness and Sophomore haughtiness became Junior dignity.

Politics loomed as the most important occupation at the outset of the year and the Junior election was the most important in our scholastic career. For to the Junior Officers is entrusted the task of promoting a successful Junior Prom which preceding classes have built up into a fine tradition. By popular vote in convention assembled we assigned this task to President Richard "Dick" Carey, Vice-President Edwin A. Gehring, Treasurer Harry Devlin and Secretary William Mahoney.

In a short time we found ourselves quite adept at conceding, denying and distinguishing in the approved scholastic tradition; while stating our case syllogistically and (we hoped) conclusively became a daily occupation. We peered into ponderous tomes in the library and dabbled in strong potions in the lab for hours on end. In short, we settled down to a life of study (well, mostly study), like the serious young men we were.

But studies weren't our only worry. As becomes Loyola Juniors, we took upon ourselves the task of staging that glamorous and gala social event of the year—the Prom. True financial genius, found in our officers, helped considerably nor was salesmanship and managerial talent lacking among the members of the class. Undoubtedly some of our number will some day be called "magnates" or "captains of industry." Be that as it may, our Prom was most successful, and continued the Loyola tradition of glorious Junior Promenades. All who enjoyed Russ Morgan's Orchestra and the "bon-ton" atmosphere of the affair will have memories of it for many a day to come.

We found time for other activities, too. At mid-year, the management of the Greyhound passed to Junior hands and that publication was kept on its high journalistic level by the new staff. In the Bellarmine Debating Society, Juniors bore most of the brunt of the inter-collegiate debate schedule and the lecture program.

Juniors took leading parts in every presentation of the Masque and Rapier players. Members of the class were extremely active in the Mendel and Chemists' Clubs. Our representation in the Sodality was large, and a considerable number of the Shea History Academy lectures were delivered by Juniors. We conducted a very successful Freshman welcoming dance and a tea dance for the members of our own class. In intramural athletics, Junior teams were always near the top of the league, winning the intramural basketball crown, while a number of Juniors held positions on basketball and baseball varsity teams.

In short, the class of '38 was really "doing things" with interest in every activity and anxious to cooperate with all classes and organizations. Next year's Senior Class should, from previews, be most successful in all it undertakes.

JUNIOR WHO'S WHO

Best Student	Mahoney
Best Athlete	Bremer
Best Sport	Malooly
Best Dancer	Reddy
Best Dressed	Reynolds
Loudest	McClure
Quietest	Jones
Best Writer	Mahoney
Most Popular	Carey
Funnest	Frey
Favorite Sport	Basketball
Best Musician	Euker
Best Speaker	Gehring
Most Radical	Newby
Favorite Period	Philosophy
Best Artist	Devlin
Most Loyal	Carey
Best Crooner	Grady
Sleepiest	Frey
Hansomest	Bracken
Tallest	McCoy
Youngest	Schiavetti
Most Energetic	Matricciani
Wittiest	Wayson

POWERS

O'NEILL

CONNOR

STEVENSON

Sophomore Class History

OFFICERS

Bernard J. O'Neill	President
Charles M. Connor	Vice-President
Edward W. Stevenson	Treasurer
Samuel J. Powers	Secretary

The moon is up on our second fruitful year at Loyola, and the sudden brilliancy of its sunset is still in our eyes. But now it is a pleasure, like perusing an old album, to gaze back in retrospect, and see what we have accomplished during that fast-flown year.

Of course, as Sophomores, we took over our duties as proper and duly authorized instructors of the newly christened "Pups." But after much harrying on our part, and a display of goodwill among the "Pups," the crucial gridiron battle at the end of the training season freed them of their harness and blotted out their fears.

Our first important event as Sophomores was the setting of the scene of the Sophomore Frolique. This was the start of Loyola's social whirl, and we are glad to be able to say that it was a pleasant success. Rudy Killian's Kadets marched through the strains of the "top" melodies of the day, in an atmosphere enhanced by that well known Loyola fellowship and friendliness.

When the organizations were being formed we found ourselves well represented in almost all of them. In the Bellarmine Debating Society Loden, White, Zangara, C. Connor, C. O'Neill, Samuel Powers and William Doyle essayed their talents.

In the Mask and Rapier Dramatic Society, we can boast of such stalwarts as Loden, White, Murphy, Doyle, Stevenson and Sam Powers. Active on this year's much talked about "Greyhound" staff, we find George Smith, Joe Kelley, Loden, Knott, Doyle.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

When we come to the consideration of athletics, we see that here also we were represented in commendable measure. On the varsity basketball squad we placed Keech and Stevenson. While on the Junior Varsity, we saw Malloy, Loden, Lazatti, Kennedy, Mantz, Kieran, C. Connor and Sam Powers.

Now as the budding baseball prospects are migrating from the "bull sessions" in the cafeteria to the red clay of the base-paths, we see many of our own men among them. Drane, George Smith, Bernie O'Neill, Sam Powers are out there battling for jobs on the varsity.

So, in passing, we see that the interest of the Sophomore Class in Loyola affairs has not been inert, but rather we feel that we have done our part in keeping alive Loyola traditions. We leave behind a momentous milestone in our college career, and we look ahead with high hopes and no regrets.

SOPHOMORE WHO'S WHO

Best Student	C. O'Neill	Best Speaker . . .	C. O'Neill
Best Athlete . . .	Stevenson	Most Radical . . .	Malloy
Best Sport . . .	Lazzatti	Favorite Period . . .	Lunch
Best Dancer	Crimy	Best Artist . . .	Smith
Best Dressed	Stevenson	Most Loyal . . .	Powers
Loudest . . .	Scholz	Best Crooner . . .	Knott
Quietest . . .	McNamara	Sleepiest . . .	Hooper
Best Writer . . .	Loden	Handsomest . . .	White
Most Popular . . .	B. O'Neill	Tallest . . .	Mantz
Funniest . . .	Stevenson	Youngest . . .	McNamara
Favorite Sport . . .	Baseball	Most Energetic . . .	B. O'Neill
Best Musician . . .	Caldwell	Wittiest . . .	Stevenson

FRESHMAN CLASS

AUMANN

O'DONNELL

SCHAUB

DEVLIN

Freshman Class History

OFFICERS

President	James J. O'Donnell
Vice-President	Paul Schaub
Treasurer	Joseph J. Devlin
Secretary	Frederick Aumann

Portrait of a Freshman Talking To Himself

Ho-hum . . . tired . . . um . . . 'member back when I became a great College man . . . bought me a pipe . . . picked up a few stories from the New Yorker and was all set . . . blasé now . . . ha-ha . . . those Sophs . . . ha-ha . . . scared me for a while, 'tho . . . two bucks for a hat and tie . . . sickly green pool-table felt . . . hooked again . . . boy that paddle! . . . certainly did impress me . . . always did wonder what subterfuge meant.

We got even . . . 13—0 . . . yah-yah . . . I mean that football game right after Thanksgiving, when O'Donnell and McLaughlin went over for touchdowns . . . carried off those Sophs right and left.

Juniors were pretty swell . . . that "Welcoming Dance" they gave us "pups" was great . . . Soft lights and so on . . . yeh, they're all right . . . Jack White's band swung it neatly too.

We did rather well in the Intramural Softball League, also . . . One Frosh team bogged down . . . but the "Pups" other entry climbed right up into the play-offs with the Seniors . . . those sophisticates would win . . . anyhow, we snared second place . . . well-a-day . . . O'Donnell, Gellner and Schaub joined the staff of the Greyhound to see that we weren't neglected in its pages . . . All the varsity teams had to reckon with the incoming Frosh, too . . . Lou Kemper, Joe Devlin and Walt Cummings zipped through the netting for the basketball club . . . they're plenty good material for a future championship team . . . and for the J. V. basketeters, Clancy, Knell, D'Ambrogi and Norton cavorted gracefully.

O. yeh! almost forgot "Everyman" . . . O'Donnell and Gellner boasted the buskin in the roles of "Knowledge" and "Good Deeds" respectively . . . and Aumann, Santry, Betzold and Ozazewski did all the strenuous work behind the scenes.

Then . . . ah, then . . . came that delovely Frosh Hop . . . the Merchants' Club . . . Walter Routson's lilting rythm . . . yowsah . . . a gay time for all . . . a fitting finalé to the season of exams and strenuous mental activity.

Ummm . . . so tired . . . Frosh year almost gone . . . umm . . . sleepy . . . wish the Prof wouldn't talk so much . . . he disturbs my dreams . . . umm . . . Goodni—.

FRESHMEN WHO'S WHO

Best Student	Cichelli
Best Athlete	Kemper
Baldest	McCarthy
Best Sport	Aumann
Best Dancer	Schall
Loudest	McClure
Quietest	Bankoski
Best Writer	Schaub
Most Popular	O'Donnell
Funniest	Mitchell
Best Musician	Ozazewski
Best Speaker	Gellner
Most Radical	A. McFadden
Favorite Period	Lunch
Best Artist	Waters
Most Loyal	McClure
Best Crooner	Hammon
Sleepiest	Storek
Hansomest	Schall
Tallest	Cummings
Youngest	Schmitz
Most Energetic	N. Y. A. Workers
Wittiest	Devlin

LOYOLA COLLEGE SONGS

SONS OF THE GREEN AND GRAY

*Fair mid the gardens of Guilford arise
Loyola's white mansions; she looks to the skies;
There seeking wisdom and honor's pure
ray,
She takes from the welkin the dawn's silver GRAY.*

*Sons of the Green and Gray,
Loyal and true,
Join hands and hearts today,
Pledge faith anew;
Like the firm brilliancy
Stars cast above
For Alma Mater be
Steadfast your love!*

*Round her the tall graceful evergreens stand—
Symbols of friendship, oft vowed hand in hand;
Signs of fresh youth that is writ on her brow:
She captures the GREEN from the amaranth bough!*

—J. O'NIELL MILLER. '37.

MARCH ON, MEN!

*When the sounds of strife are in the air,
You can see Loyola's sons repair
To their posts of duty, ev'r yone,
Holding high her flag till the battle's done—
Side by side they fight in fierce array,
Dauntless ever their endeavor
To put to rout the forces
That attack the Green and Gray.*

*Then, on men! March on men!
March onward to the fray—
Like new men and true men,
Unfurl the Green and Gray;
With strong hearts defend it,
Loyola's flag of fame.
With victory—make glorious,
Your Alma Mater's name.*

*So the men she nurtured long ago,
For their Alma Mater, fought the foe,
Having true blood coursing in their veins,
They made use of brawn, they made use of brains—
And the triumph of these warriors bold,
Tells the story of the glory,
That belong to hearts well fashioned
In the grand Loyola mould.*

—A. M. FREMGEN, S.J.

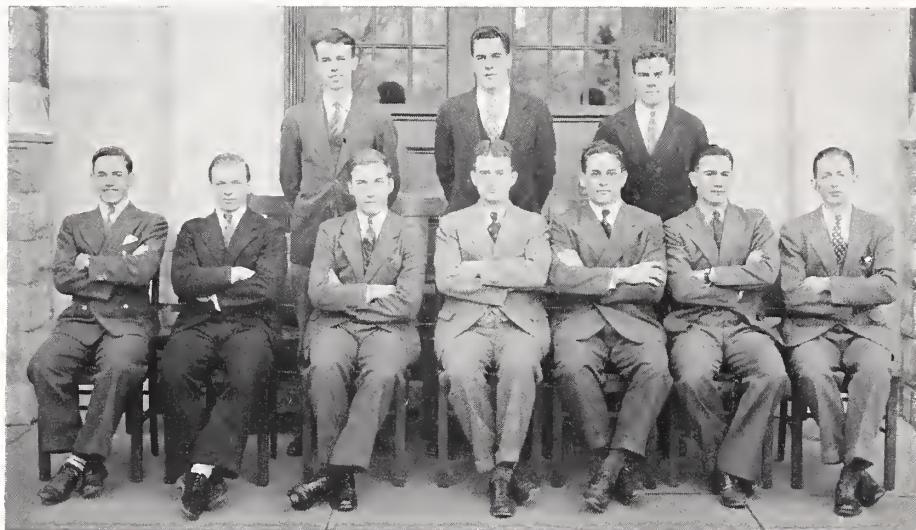

*"Give unto me made lowly wise,
The spirit of self-sacrifice . . ."*

—WORDSWORTH

BOOK THREE

ORGANIZATIONS

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

Officers

President Donald M. Powers, '37

Secretary Philip A. McGreevey, '38

Members

Thomas E. Bracken, '37

Philip A. McGreevey, '38

William A. Smith, '37

Harry C. Bremer, '38

Donald M. Powers, '37

Bernard J. O'Neill, '39

Francis M. Keidel, '37

James P. Lazzatti, '39

Richard A. Carey, '38

James J. O'Donnell, '40

John D. Schmidt, '40

The high court of Loyola students, The Student Council, convened in the early part of the scholastic year after its members had been duly elected by the various classes. Its first official act was the ratification of the old Constitution and the election of officers as prescribed therein.

Its program was outlined as ordained in the Constitution, as being not essentially a controversial board, but a medium between the students and the faculty in matters which relate to both, to maintain harmony between the classes and to uphold Loyola traditions and customs.

This year with the advent of the new Dean, the Student Council also served as a sounding-board by which Father Gorman could get a cross-sectional opinion of the students on matters which he proposed as beneficial to the College as a whole.

THE SODALITY

Officers

Joseph J. Mack	Prefect
John O. Bracken	Assistant Prefect
James P. Lazzati	Secretary
Charles R. Gellner	Treasurer

Class Representatives

William J. O'Donnell	Senior	Charles M. Connor	Sophomore
William W. Mahoney	Junior	Joseph J. Devlin	Freshman

Sodality of the Immaculate Conception is the oldest student organization at Loyola. It was officially established on December 8, 1852. Besides this existence of '85 years, it is inspiring to realize that our little organization is associated with a world-wide movement that had its roots far in the past. For the Sodality at the College is officially affiliated with the first Roman Sodality, known as the "Prima Primaria." The idea of the first Sodality was conceived by a young Jesuit, John Leonis of Liege. This new movement was thought so important, that the fraternity was officially recognized and approved by the Papal Bull "Omnipotentis Dei" of Gregory XIII, on December, 5, 1584.

The purpose of the Sodality is to foster a strong religious spirit under the patronage and protection of the Blessed Mother. The ideal Sodalist should be one consecrated to the struggle for the better things of life. The programme this year consisted in weekly meetings, alternating between Chapel and Lectures. The purpose of the lectures was to give the student a clear Catholic out-look on the problems of life and to engender a strong sense of Catholic Culture. The educational talks reached their climax in the Medical Symposium, in which Professors, Doctors and Medical Students exchanged their views on the matter of correct preparation for the Medical Profession.

LOYOLA CHEMISTS' CLUB

Officers

Faculty Director	The Rev. Richard B. Schmitt, S.J.
President	John C. Osborne
Vice President	Robert Henry Conant
Secretary	Michael L. DeVincentis

Librarians

J. Leo Martin, '37	James J. Nolan, '37
	Francis P. Kerger, '38

The Loyola Chemists' Club, founded by Father Richard B. Schmitt in 1930, again enjoyed a most successful year. In its brief history the Club has risen to unprecedented heights in popularity both among the students of Loyola and of nearby colleges. The object of the organization is to arouse interest in Chemistry by demonstrating the intimate bearing of the test-tube on practical problems of industry. This end is achieved by the presentation of papers by the members themselves and particularly by non-resident lecturers who are the recognized authorities in their respective professional fields.

As in former years the program was one of the highest caliber. The members enjoyed the instructive illustrated lectures of Dr. Walter A. Patrick of Johns Hopkins University, and Dr. Beverly L. Clarke of the Bell Telephone Research Laboratories in New York City. The club was particularly fortunate to have Mr. E. P. Coffey, Director of Technical Laboratories of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington, speak to a capacity audience on the chemistry employed in the detection of crime. Other interesting problems were presented by Dr. Walter H. Hartung and Dr. A. Herman Pfund of the University of Maryland and Johns Hopkins University, respectively. The program was brought to a brilliant close by lectures on typical every-day chemical problems, by Mr. Walter A. Weldon of the Locke Insulator Corporation and by Mr. Charles S. Copely representing the Socony Vacuum Oil Co. of New York City.

THE MENDEL CLUB

Officers

Faculty Director	The Rev. Joseph S. Didusch, S.J.
President	F. Howard Kidd, '37
Vice President	John B. Wells, '37
Secretary	James J. Nolan, '37
Treasurer	Earle W. Frey, '38
Sergeant-at-Arms	Harry M. Putsche, '38

Librarians

James J. Nolan, '37	Harry M. Putsche, '38
	Clyde F. Reed, '38

Having become one of Loyola's established organizations, the Mendel Club enjoyed a most successful season during the school year of 1936-'37. Unprecedented attendance at the Seminar lectures has proven its success as a medium for transmitting knowledge of Biology and all its subdivisions.

Apart from the discourses, meetings were held at which the Constitution of the Club was adopted and officers elected for the ensuing school year. New members were initiated at a social meeting held in the recreation rooms of the Science Building.

With Father Joseph S. Didusch, S.J., as Moderator, a Seminar program, with varied and fascinating topics, was undertaken and conducted by student members. In all, there were ten lectures arranged on the year's program. Each of these dissertations manifested painstaking and skillful research, and ideas were clarified by the presence of actual specimens and exhibits which a number of the lecturers displayed. Open forum discussions engendered a deep-rooted interest in the lectures and did much to promote the purpose and intent of the Club, as well as to create a firm, scientific interest in the study of Biology.

THE SOCIAL SCIENCE CLUB

Jacques G. Ayd	President
Anthony Dziwulski	Vice President
Bernard J. Barranger	Scribe

Following the precedent of former years, the Social Science Club of Loyola College was reorganized for the year by Father Joseph J. Ayd, S.J., who has been chiefly responsible for the existence of this organization in the past. After much electioneering the members elected Jacques G. Ayd as President; Anthony Dziwulski, as Vice-President, and Bernard J. Barranger as Scribe.

During the year the routine matter of the regular classes was broken up by the presentation of interesting lectures of topics assigned by the Moderator. The lecturers all exhibited a keen enthusiasm for their tasks, and were well-informed on their respective subject matter, with the result that the members of the class benefitted greatly by the arguments contained in the series of lectures.

Interspersed among the different lectures were the annual visits to the Maryland Penitentiary, the City Jail, Mt. Hope Retreat, City Hospitals and the Little Sisters of the Poor. These trips proved very informative and were especially valuable in that they united practical application to the theory studied in class.

The program of lectures was as follows:

"The Eugenic Movement"	Francis M. Keidel
"The Negro Problem"	William D. McGonigle
"The Menace of Divorce"	Lawrence T. Mullen
"The Population Problem"	Thomas E. Bracken
"The Narcotic Problem"	Henry J. Broenne
"The Crime Problem"	William J. O'Donnell
"Modern Penal Treatment"	Joseph J. Mack
"Capital Punishment"	Jacques G. Ayd
"Feeble-Mindedness"	Bernard J. Barranger
"The State and Insanity"	Edward Russell
"Social Justice"	William J. Little

John Gilmary Shea Academy Of History

Officers

President	William J. O'Donnell, '37
Vice President ..	William W. Mahoney, '38
Secretary	Charles O. Fisher, '38
Archivist	Thomas E. Bracken, '37
Moderator ..	Edward A. Doehler, Ph.D.

Among the activities that have achieved the decade mark in the annals of Loyola is the John Gilmary Shea Academy of History. In its tenth year, this society, under the direction of the Professor of History at the College, Dr. Edward A. Doehler, has enjoyed the most successful series of lectures since its inauguration.

The series was outstanding not only because of the interest shown by the student body but also because of the timeliness of the subjects chosen. "The Story of Spain Through the Ages" was chosen for the theme of the lectures at a time when the Iberian Peninsula was torn with civil strife; at a time when the world stood watching a tragic situation which threatened to become world-wide in scope.

Beginning with the geographical and ethnological factors in the formation of the country, its gradual historical development was traced through the early ages of its infancy, through the Hapsburg and Bourbon dynasties, the establishment of the republicies and down to the current revolution.

In sponsoring this lecture series the aim of the society is to promote a keen interest in History, past and current and to allow the student, historically inclined, an opportunity to do special work under competent direction.

THE MASK AND RAPIER PLAYERS

A most significant step in the history of the drama at Loyola took place this year when the College's dramatic activities were formally organized under the control of the "Masque and Rapier Players," an association of Loyola Thespians. Under the direction of Mr. Joseph C. Kelly, S.J., its moderator, and with Thomas J. Emory, '37, and William Mahoney, '38, as co-Presidents, the group achieved successes that surpassed all expectations.

Early in the year, when students, friends and alumni of the college united to make "Loyola Night" at the Alcazar a gala occasion, the Masque and Rapier Players contributed no little to the success of the entertainment by presenting two splendid one-act plays. Lord Dunsany's "The Lost Silk Hat," with its quiet humor and clever nuances, was well acted and well received; while a farcical, rollicking affair entitled "The Drowsy Dragoon" won many a curtain call.

Turning to more serious drama, the players decided to present the old Medieval Morality play "Everyman," for the Lenten season. "Everyman" was certainly a wise choice. Powerful, simple and beautiful, it succeeds in clearly imparting its religious message. As produced at Loyola, with a musical background, and sincere, telling performances by the actors, it was remarkably effective and moving.

At this writing the Masque and Rapier organization is preparing for what it hopes will be another triumph. The Loyola players have entered into a one-act play competition with dramatic societies from Fordham University, Georgetown University, St. Peter's College and St. Joseph's College. The scene of the contest will be Philadelphia. Loyola's entry will be the merry tale of the mishaps of a curio collector, "The Drowsy Dragoon," which was presented and well received at "Loyola Night."

THE GREYHOUND

Editor-in-Chief

Lawrence T. Mullen, '37

Sports Editor

William J. O'Donnell, '37

Associate Sports Editors

Edwards B. Reddy, '38

Daniel J. Loden, '39

DEPARTMENTS

William A. Smith, '37

William W. Mahoney, '38

Charles O. Fisher, '38

Philip A. McGreevey, '38

Circulation Manager

Charles C. Conlon, '38

Advertising Manager

Joseph J. Mack, '37

Alumni Editor

Joseph B. Kelly, '39

Associate Editors

William D. McGonigle, '37

William A. Doyle, '39

Earl J. Knott, '39

George A. Smith, '39

HOLY NAME SOCIETY

Loyola's dormant Holy Name Society was reorganized this year by Father Risacher on an active basis. At the request of Monsignor Quinn, recently appointed Archdiocesan Director of the Holy Name, Loyola joined with the parish societies in a public demonstration of Catholic belief.

Loyola's Holy Name Unit, consisting of the entire Catholic student body, was given a place of importance among Catholic schools in the annual "Christ the King" parade to the Fifth Regiment Armory. Marching behind the College flag, the small but impressive representation was warmly applauded by a large group of Catholic and non-Catholic spectators. Later in the year, at the behest of Archbishop Curley, the entire Holy Name Society of Loyola attended Mass and received Holy Communion at the Cathedral. Our beloved Archbishop made an earnest appeal to the student body to join in his war on communism and its atheistic beliefs.

We were pleased to note that Loyola's Holy Name Society has at last been aroused from its lethargy to an active state, and we sincerely hope that it will continue to progress and to assume a prominent part in all Catholic functions.

Moderator

Rev. John J. Risacher, S.J.

Delegates

Elmer J. Dunne	William A. Doyle
William J. O'Donnell	James P. Lazzatti
Donald M. Powers	George R. Connor
William W. Mahoney	Donald J. McClure
J. Austin Codd	Charles R. Gellner
Edwin A. Gehring	Joseph J. Devlin

THE BELLARMINE DEABTING SOCIETY

Moderator

President

Secretary

Vincent P. McCorry, S.J.

Thomas J. Emory, '37

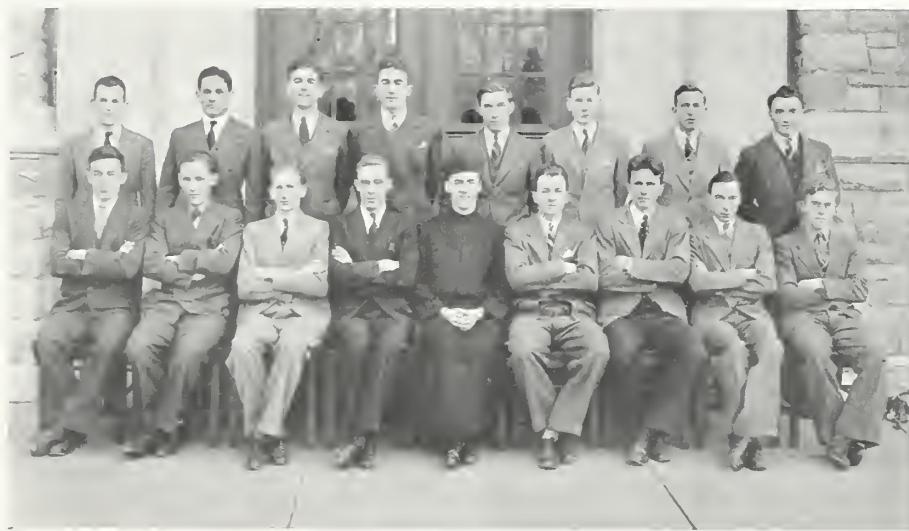

Edward B. Reddy, '38

The Bellarmine Debating Society during the past year really resumed its proper position in the extra-curricular spot-light at Loyola. For the first time in many years, Loyola returned to the field of intercollegiate debating and considerable success has greeted its efforts.

The debaters made an auspicious start when a team composed of Messrs. O'Neill, Fisher and Mahoney successfully upheld their side by a two to one decision in a debate with Johns Hopkins University. Then followed a no-decision contest with Notre Dame College when Messrs. Reddy, McClure and Gehring presented their arguments in a creditable manner. Inspired by their efforts, the debaters arranged an impressive trip during the Easter vacation when a team comprising Messrs. Fisher, Mahoney, Gehring and Reddy represented Loyola at Villanova on March 31st and two days later the same debaters met New York University in New York.

In addition to its debating activities two lecture series were inaugurated, one dealing with "Communism," the other with "Spain." The lecturers on Communism have chosen the following subjects: "What is Communism?", "Communism in Spain"; and "The Catholic Answer to Communism." The lecturers on Spain spoke on "Spain: Its Past History," "Republicanism and the Church," and "The Present Situation." The three talks in each series are designated to present a composite picture of the subject under discussion in simple language as clearly as possible.

The Bellarmine Debating Society will lose but a few of its active members through graduation and will have a close-knit, enthusiastic nucleus of debaters and lecturers qualified by experience to carry on its pleasant, though exacting, tasks in the coming year.

THE GLEE CLUB

During the past year the Glee Club furnished entertainment on various occasions—at public debates, at Holy Name smokers, and most notably at the annual Loyola Night concert held at the Alcazar on December 11. On that night the Club, comprising a membership of twenty-four singers, rendered with distinction a difficult and attractive program. Especially pleasing was the baritone soloist, Earl Knott, '39, who featured O'Neill Miller's charming original composition "Our Last Waltz."

The Glee Club was organized two years ago by the present Moderator, Rev. A. M. Fremgen, S.J., principally to furnish musical entertainment on "Loyola Night," inaugurated at the same time as an annual gala festivity for Loyola students, alumni and friends. The second "Loyola Night," held last December, proved the popularity of the innovation. The elegant auditorium and blue room of the Alcazar were crowded with enthusiastic Loyola people, young and old, who enjoyed the varied program consisting of a musical concert, two one-act plays and a dance. It is proposed to maintain "Loyola Night" at the Alcazar as a primary social function of the College in future years.

In connection with the organization of the Glee Club it is worth recording that two new college songs have been composed by talent on the campus. One "March On, Men," a Loyola marching song, was written by the Moderator of the Glee Club; the other, an Alma Mater song, is the inspired product of O'Neill Miller, '37. Both these songs have been featured on various occasions by the Glee Club.

Further impetus to the cultivation of musical interest was given during the past year by a contest in college song composition sponsored by Mr. George Dorsch. In this competition O'Neill Miller again distinguished himself by winning first prize, the second prize being awarded to the gifted accompanist of the Glee Club, John Ozazewski, '40.

GREEN AND GRAY STAFF

Moderator

REV. F. M. GILLIS

Co-Editors

WILLIAM A. SMITH

WILLIAM J. O'DONNELL

Managing Editor

DONALD M. POWERS

Literary Staff

Jacques G. Ayd
Charles L. Bokemeyer
Thomas E. Bracken
Thomas J. Emory

Francis M. Keidel
William D. McGonigle
Lawrence T. Mullen
Joseph V. Niemoeller

Business Staff

Elmer J. Dunne
F. Howard Kidd, Jr.
Bernard B. Lochte, Jr.

Joseph J. Mack
C. Carroll Murphy
J. Bernard Wells

*"Yet leaving here a name, I trust,
That will not perish in the dust."*

—SOUTHEY

BOOK FOUR

ATHLETICS

BASKETBALL SQUAD

COACH BILL LISTON

VARSITY BASKETBALL

When one comes to speak of the 1937 basketball campaign at Loyola, no silver-tongued words or garlands may be used to extoll the season as one of glorious victories—the record speaks for itself. No cup was won, not even a good percentage resulted, but the situation was not a complete failure. You must accept the bitter with the sweet, and this was one year when the sugar became saturated with vinegar. Campus tradition has it that Loyola is either in the midst of the League battle, or else it brings up the rear—this season we really finished in the cellar.

Coach Bill Liston assembled his promising squad early in November, a group so promising that he had dreams of only the highest success, dreams which slowly faded.

The class of '37, however, cannot be accused of apathy in its support of the Greyhounds. Tom Carney, its outstanding representative, has been a regular guard on the team and for three years has been chosen on the All-State Team for his stellar performances with the Greyhounds; Ed Russell, our pivot man, equally well did his share of the work on the rebounds, and Bill O'Donnell fulfilled the managerial duties.

Loyola 57—Alumni 45

The Greyhound openers found the squad on a scoring spree. Charlie Wayson teamed with Tom Carney and Walt Cummings to show some of the boys who made basketball history at Loyola just how they could score. Vince Carlin, '33, gave the fans and loyalists just what they wanted when his thrilling long shots dropped through the hoop unerringly. Scoring against such excellent opposition gave the Loyola followers hopes of the highest success.

Loyola 44—Towson State Teachers 20

The boys were in for another track meet with the score standing at 23—7 at the half; everyone scored against the slight opposition offered by our neighbors, but Wayson again topped the Loyola squad with eleven points.

Loyola 38—Gallaudet 23

The deaf mutes of Gallaudet came over from Washington as the next foe of the Green and Gray, but again our boys hung up the baskets with deadly accuracy, this time Lou Kemper setting the pace. Our spirits were still at peak, every indication pointed to a victorious season.

ED RUSSELL

Loyola 29—Marshall 41

From the sou'west there roared a fast moving Marshall College five which showed the Greyhounds just what team play was and with what speed a team could move a ball. Ed Russell, until banished on fouls by his forcing type of play, stood out so pre-eminently for Loyola that it was later remarked that it was the best game of his college career. It was no dishonor to be defeated by a team which could play basketball like that.

Loyola 19—St. Joseph's 41

Returning from the Christmas holidays, our Green and Gray togged basketers journeyed to Philadelphia to meet one of the strongest teams in the country. In a roughly played encounter, the Hawks of St. Joseph's, under the leadership of Max Guokas, their versatile and powerful center, easily romped on in their chain of victories.

Loyola 25—Southeastern 29

In one of the season's worst played games in a small Washington gym, the Y. M. C. A. Southeastern team eked out a narrow victory over our now twice beaten Greyhounds. Joe Kelley gathered eight points to lead our scorers in their defeat.

Loyola 26—Mt. St. Mary's 31

The Mount, our old league rival, came down from Emmitsburg to hand us our fourth straight loss by a five-point margin. Apichella, their sharpshooting forward, put them on top with his long distance throws but Charlie Wayson out-pointed him with eleven points.

Loyola 21—Manhattan 43

Our journey to Manhattan extended our losses. The big green-togged Manhattan College five was temporarily checked by our zone defense, the score standing 16—10 in their favor at the half time. With outside shooting, our defense soon withered and they went on unimpeded to retain their reputation among the "great" of the Metropolitan district.

Loyola 33—Washington 43

Tom Kibler's "Flying Pentagon" was the next to take us into camp down at Chestertown. With the score standing 26 to 13 against us at half-time, we battled valiantly and had more time remained, the victory may have been in the other direction, for the 'Hounds, fired by the pace set by Joe Kelley, with six baskets and a foul, were coming fast.

Loyola 31—Western Maryland 23

After six straight defeats, the Green and Gold of Westminster fell before the revived spirits of the Greyhounds in a fierce and rough struggle. Stan Benjaniu, the Terror "ace," Reb Russell and Tom Carney were ejected for fouls, but only after Carney and Charlie Wayson, teamed with Joe Keech, to put us far in the lead.

CHARLIE WAYSON

Loyola 19—Navy 11

Invited to fill an open date with our "old rival" Bill Liston's charges fell easy prey to the onslaughts of four Navy teams. Had the Freshman rule been waived, and had the team had more rest from the Western Maryland game of the night before, our boys might have given a better account of themselves.

Loyola 14—St. John's 24

Lambros and Ross, the indomitable forwards of Dutch Lentz's "football" quint, moving behind blocking plays to score twenty-two points between them, were enough to stand off the efforts of the entire Loyola team. Captain Carney led his team in opposition with six points.

Loyola 32—Western Maryland 33

This time our Green Terror opponents with the points evenly divided, turned the tables on us, but the decision of the game was given only after Referee Paul Menton, on the word of the Western Maryland timer, ruled that Ned Stevenson's basket was scored after the final whistle had been sounded. Joe Keech and Wayson were outstanding, however, despite our downfall.

Loyola 44—Hopkins 53

A rangy Hopkins team, making everything it threw up count as baskets, easily outpointed our Greyhounds in one of the fastest games played at Evergreen. Capt. Tom Carney hung up a total of seventeen points to out-score Melvin of Hopkins by one tally.

JOE KELLEY

TOM CARNEY

Loyola 31—Mt. St. Mary's 53

With Petrini and Savage leading the attack in the "Hat-Box" gym at the foot of Echo Mountain, the league champs of Mount St. Mary's in a scoring spree handily sent the Loyola quint home in defeat. Lou Kemper, returning to the squad, gave a good account of himself scoring fifteen points from the pivot.

Loyola 37—Towson State Teachers 23

With Ed Russell getting ten points and Carney continuing his sterling play, the Teachers fell an easy victim for the second time, and gave us our first victory after six straight losses.

Loyola 36—Washington 37

The big Maroons from Chestertown with big "Goop" Zebrowski gathering twenty-one points, just managed to eke out a victory by a foul shot, in the most interesting game played all season. Again Captain Carney led his team with five baskets and two fouls while Charlie Wayson, his playing mate, trailed with nine points.

Loyola 41—Hopkins 60

It seems that every time Loyola meets Hopkins, the Jays play way over their heads, and this time they stretched the score to average a point and a half a minute. With several of our lads out due to sickness and injuries, the Green and Gray battled fiercely, so fiercely in fact, that many were ejected on fouls. Tom Carney, playing the last game of his college career, snared a total of seventeen points to tie with Melvin, of Hopkins for game honors.

BASEBALL SQUAD

VARSITY BASEBALL

Surely fate has dealt strangely with the Loyola baseball team. Two years ago, the season of her debut into the Maryland Intercollegiate League, saw an inexperienced team batted around at will. Last year, under the able tutelage of Mr. Joseph C. Kelly, S.J., a young hustling team fought every inch of the way and her three victories out of eleven contests do not show the true spirit of that team. This season, a year older, a year more experienced, and with a wealth of new material, the team seemed ready to go places. The schedule was the most ambitious one attempted by a Loyola team. Games had been arranged with Georgetown, Catholic University, Washington College and Western Maryland, all big names in the ranks of college baseball. But, due to an increase in duties, Mr. Kelly was unable to take over his coaching position. Fate had seemingly dealt the death blow.

But fickle fortune reversed her stand and the announcement came forth that Dave Danforth—Dandy Dave during his major league career—was signed to be coach of the Loyola baseball team.

CAPT. TOM BRACKEN

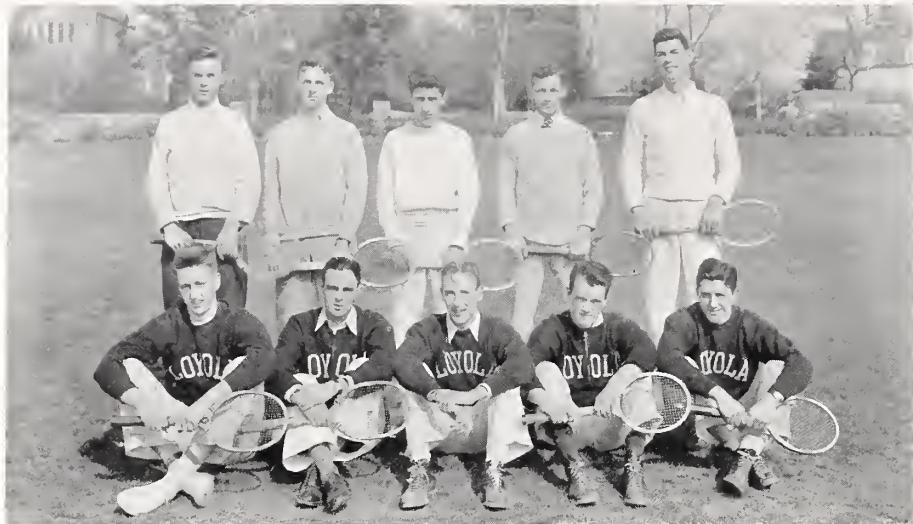

DR. DAVE DANFORTH

A college man himself, Coach Danforth went from the campus of Baylor University to the Philadelphia Athletics, and later starred for the Chicago White Sox and St. Louis Browns.

On March 15 twenty-seven eager candidates met their new mentor in the gymnasium and received their first words from a big leaguer. Since then daily workouts have been staged. The Freshmen are many and able; the Sophomores and Juniors were the nucleus of last year's team.

The Seniors, hard and grizzled, wait their last turn at intercollegiate athletics. To four men, Bill Smith, Don Powers, Tom Carney and Captain Tom Bracken goes a special word of recognition. They started, on their own initiative, the present era of baseball at Loyola when they were Freshmen. That fine Freshman team blazed a brilliant record, and we sincerely hope that these four men end their baseball careers at Loyola with a season like their first.

A big league coach, a big league spirit and with a smile from fate, this should be Loyola's year.

TENNIS TEAM

Loyola's tennis team faces the 1937 season with high hopes for a very successful campaign. Sixteen hopefuls answered the call for candidates and lively competition is being waged for positions. Four members of last year's squad are returning. These are Fritz Niemoeller, Harry Devlin, Herb Reynolds and Charley Connor. Among the newcomers Ellsworth Cadell, Walter Cummings and Billy Knell have shown a clever assortment of strokes and are making strong bids for positions on the team.

An attractive schedule has been arranged which consists of ten matches with colleges in the vicinity of Baltimore and Washington. Seven of these matches will be played away and three will be played on the new courts recently completed at Loyola.

The Schedule

April 17—Mt. Washington at Mt. Washington.	May 11—Hopkins at Loyola.
April 22—Washington at Chestertown.	May 14—Washington at Loyola.
April 30—St. John's at Annapolis.	May 15—Catholic University at Loyola.
May 4—Hopkins at Hopkins.	May 20—St. John's at Loyola.
May 7—Western Maryland at Westminster.	May 25—Georgetown at Georgetown.

GOLF

For the fourth successive year Loyola has an intercollegiate team on the links. Though not a major sport, golf has a number of avid followers among the members of the College, and in the spring, one's life is in danger when crossing the athletic field during any of the free periods. Slices, hooks, tops and shanks are topics of conversation among a select group of Loyolans and woe be to him who endeavors to be facetious at their expense. Golf is a religion among these fairway floggers and serves as a fertile field for thought to while away the cold winter days.

Due to the inclement weather in March and the early part of April, the golfers had little chance for practice but they are making the most of the opportunities that are presented. As this publication goes to press, no matches have as yet been played, but according to custom a practice match will be played with Loyola High School and then they enter upon their intercollegiate schedule. Rogers Golf Course will be the scene of all their home matches and as things are shaping up there are prospects of a bright future.

The team tentatively selected at the present date is composed of: Captain Frank Keidel, Jack Brennan, Barney Barranger and Ed Dougherty. All have played interscholastic golf and three of the four have played intercollegiate matches for Loyola. Consequently it will be a team of veterans stepping up to the first tee for Loyola this year.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

This has been one of the most successful seasons the J. V. has ever enjoyed. The team started off at top speed, determined to play this year in the win column. And that, folks, is just what it did. The Juniors won seven against all types of opposition. Towson Catholic, Loyola High, Poly, the Delmar A. C., and St. John's of Annapolis were vanquished in successive order, then a set-back was suffered when Hopkins shoved them into the red column. Playing under a severe handicap with three regulars missing, the Jayvees dropped another game, this time to Calvert Hall. However the club was at its full strength for its return tilt with Hopkins and concluded the season by doubling the score against the boys from Homewood.

As a reward for the excellent record they compiled the Athletic Department has announced that minor letters will be awarded to eight members of the squad. Those receiving letters are: Knell, Clancy, Mantz, Malloy, Kieran, D'Ambrogi, Loden and Lazzatti. The high spots of the season were the two tilts with St. John's which saw our boys in top form and clicking smoothly and the final contest with Hopkins in which the Jay Vee amassed the highest score of the season totaling forty-four points against their opponents' twenty-two. "Pete" Malloy was chosen captain at the beginning of the season and his accuracy from mid-court was a deciding factor in the team's success. "Atlas" McClure managed the season for the Juniors.

Schedule

	Opponents	Loyola
Towson Catholic	27	29
Loyola High	27	28
Polytechnic	23	26
St. John's	13	21
Delmar A. C.	18	33
John Hopkins	20	10
Calvert Hall	21	10
St. John's	5	30
Johns Hopkins	22	44

INTRAMURALS

When the Athletic Association of Loyola modified its varsity sports by eliminating football and boxing, and limiting intercollegiate competition to basketball and baseball, it began an extensive program of intramural sports. Foremost in this competition between the various classes was the fast growing game of "indoor" or "soft-ball," as it is often called. The factor most responsible in the spirited competition of this sport is the convenience of the playing time. Games are played during lunch hour with modified rules to quicken the completion of the struggles. Both a fall and a spring campaign is conducted, the winners of each to engage in a play-off to determine the class champion of Loyola. In the fall campaign, spirited competition arose between the Seniors, Juniors and one of the Freshmen clubs. The Seniors completed the campaign by defeating both of their foremost rivals and are now eagerly awaiting the approaching spring series.

In addition to indoor, intramural basketball was conducted successfully this year. Playing in the afternoons, at the close of the varsity campaign, the teams quickly completed their brief schedule. The Junior team emerged victors in an undefeated campaign, defeating the Senior contingent in a slow-scoring but spirited game.

Now that spring has called the athletes to competition, in outdoor sports, Loyola's intramuralists are eagerly awaiting the coming indoor campaign. In addition an elimination tennis tournament will be conducted in the early part of May. All tennis enthusiasts have begun practicing, now that the inclement weather of April is past.

With the return of football to Loyola's intercollegiate athletics in the near future under the new athletic regime an expansion and development of the intramural schedule will increase with the enlargement of the intercollegiate schedule. With the increase will come the addition of such intramural competition as football, the "king-pin" of all fall sports, soccer, and in the spring an elimination golf tournament, if sufficient competitors can be found in the different classes.

*"Then wilt thou speak of banqueting delights,
Of masques and revels which sweet youth did make . . ."*

—CAMPION

BOOK FIVE

FEATURES

THE WEATHER
Lovely, isn't it?

THE DAILY LOOKING GLASS

"A Paper That Always Tells The Truth"

★★★
EDITION

VOL. VII

BALTIMORE, WEDNESDAY, MAY 15, 1952

POLITICAL NEWS

"Who's Back of It?"

The political world, especially that part of it in Baltimore and its environs was startled today by momentous, breath taking news. Mr. William J. O'Donnell, the radical, forensic potentate of the Baltimore Bar was elected to Congress as representative of the Fifth Congressional district, to consider changes in the now antiquated Constitution. Mr. O'Donnell, proponent of bigger and better court fees, when approached by the press, said that he owed much of his success to the support of "Willie" Cadell, the notorious "fixer" and his political ally.

Mr. Cadell, he commented, carried every precinct of Catonsville in his first successful candidacy in four elections. When asked about the possibility of his eccentric platform being actualized, he replied, "All right—wait, you'll see!"

FLASH!!!

James J. Nolan, lost explorer, was found, according to Associated Press reports, late yesterday, wandering in the uncivilized jungle of French Guinea, West Africa. Mr. Nolan when found was unarmed, with his clothing torn to shreds, but apparently in good health. He disappeared one month ago today, when he became separated by a raging storm from the Carnegie Anthropological Expedition which is seeking fossil remains in Africa. Mr. Nolan, when found, stated: "I am alive today, only because I know how to take care of myself in the wilderness, having lived in the country all my life."

Veteran Handicapper Returns

With nearly twenty years of working at the Nation's greatest race tracks behind him, Hugo Ricciuti has announced his retirement from active participation in the Sport of Kings. His ability to pick the horses has been phenomenal. Five years ago, when he selected "Some Diz" to win the Kentucky Derby, he became the object of the sporting world's jibes. Paying 100 to 1, "Some Diz" turned in a world record for the mile and a quarter, beating out the favorite by three lengths. Ricciuti attributes his uncanny abilities to the early efforts of his college days when he spent the greater part of his time in studying the form sheets.

Vaudeville Artist Begins Second Week

J. O'Neill Miller will head the stage attraction at Baltimore's newest theater for the second consecutive week. Mr. Miller has been held over by popular demand. Besides being a famous song writer O'Neill Miller adds to his performance by injecting into it an element of wit which has increased the appeal of his brilliant song creations. Following this week's engagement, Mr. Miller flies to Hollywood where he will write the music for the forthcoming Warner Bros. filmusical. It is rumored on the authority of some critics that Mr. Miller is contemplating a comic role in the same production. It is also rumored that authorities are putting forth every effort to bring Miller to justice for attempted murder of good humor. Due to the inexplicable loopholes in the law, this is a difficult task. However, a solution to the problem is seen possible at a near date.

"DRS. WELLS AND KIDD ASTONISH SCIENTIFIC WORLD"

Energy of Fireflies Is Utilized

Paris, France.—After twenty years of patient and diligent research, Dr. Bernard J. Wells, auctor in omnibus, and Dr. F. Howard Kidd, Jr., scientists of unlimited fame, have been rewarded with success. At last, these two men not only have succeeded in the discovery of the source of electrical energy, which illuminates the "tail light" of the firefly (sometimes called lightning bugs) but they have also been able to bridle this power in such a manner that it may be used for commercial purposes.

"We discovered," said Dr. Wells, "that the kinetic activity of the multi-nuclear neurons in the posterior dorsal lobes in the members of the Photinus Generus of the Lampyridae is the cause of this chlorophyllic illumination. After this revelation, the negative and positive antenna were singled out and by means of a special electrical shunt constructed by Dr. Kidd and myself we were able to burn two one-hundred incandescent lamps for two hours, fifty minutes and four seconds."

Dr. Kidd in his interview was less scientific than Dr. Wells, and seemed much more interested in the economic and commercial side of the discovery. "Yes, it is true," he said, "we know now what makes a lightning bug light. It is only a matter of time before we will be able to illuminate an entire city and also run by remote control of the lightning bug energy, electrical street cars at a very small fraction of the present cost."

"Stock Exchange Under New Head"

New York, N. Y.—Martin Henneberry, better known as the King of Wall Street, was today officially elected Chief Executive of the New York Stock Exchange. Mr. Henneberry began to dabble in the stock market years ago, shortly after his graduation from a small country college down in Baltimore. When "King of Wall Street" Henneberry was questioned about his success, he replied: "Indubitably, my success is due to my philosophical college education. In College, I learned to deal with things above the earth, on the earth, and under the earth. My advice to every young man is, 'Study philosophy. Without it success is impossible.'

It is rumored about town that Mr. Henneberry's studies under the earth, on the earth, and above the earth were not entirely philosophical.

THE MISSING ATOM

The scientific world was startled today by momentous news from the Martin-Conant expedition. It seems that these two babbling scientists have finally hit upon the track of the original atom. The worthy gentlemen became engrossed in this pursuit while still in college. One day, as he was counting the atoms in a test tube, Mr. Martin noticed that all the little atoms seemed to be attracted to one great big atom. Intrigued by this, he sought Mr. Conant, but, sad to relate, when they went back the great big atom was gone. Ever since those under-graduate days these two savants have been attempting to single out that original atom, but have been nonplussed until the present day.

Bearded Musician Creates Sensation

A favorite son of Baltimore, Professor Jacques G. Ayd, scarcely recognizable in the bushy foliage of his chin, which matches his disheveled hair, returned last night to give a never-to-be-forgotten rendition of unknown airs upon a toy piano. The three members of the Lyric audience (all relatives) applauded freely. After the performance, Professor Ayd refused to announce the titles of his renditions. It is a firm conviction that even Professor Ayd did not know. When the recital was complete, Jacques Ayd, Jr., captivated the audience with his playing of "Happy Days Are Here Again."

Sh! The Circus Is Coming To Town

Baltimoreans now feel assured that spring has arrived, since they have observed the newly-placed posters advertising Russell's Rumbling Circus. Yes, it is true, the greatest circus in the world will be back in Baltimore on May 29th and 30th. Baltimore is more proud of this circus than of any in the country because it had its origin in our fair city. In fact, "Ed" Russell, owner of the circus and staunch native of West Baltimore, entered the show business on Liberty and Lexington Streets about twenty years ago. At that time, Mr. Russell's equipment consisted of no more than two invisible gold fish which he gladly displayed to interested pedestrians. Later on Mr. Russell added an invisible dog which he was often seen leading to and fro on Lexington street. The same dog almost brought Mr. Russell's circus days to an end a few years ago, when in a mad-dened rage it attacked its owner. Luckily, Mr. Russell managed to subdue it before it had done any great damage.

As the years advanced, "Ed" Russell continued to accumulate more and more oddities. Today he has the greatest collection of invisible specimens in the rarest form of animals that have ever not been seen.

Noted Pianist Scheduled at Lyric Theatre

The most distinguished composer of unharmonious rhythm, Monsieur Bernard J. Barranger (pronounced Bar-ran-jay) will honor our fair city by giving a recital at the Lyric theater tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock. Monsieur Barranger, as you music lovers know, is the originator of the non-phil-harmonic discord which has been stupifying the high musical circles of the country. These compositions are without a doubt causing great concern to the Metropolitan Opera Company. It seems that these musical interpretations are so intricate, requiring such a sweep of masculine virility, that a proper rendition by anyone except this notable artist is practically impossible.

It is known among M. Barranger's more intimate friends that his unequalled skill, according to a statement made by the artist himself, is a result of repeatedly standing upon his hands and the constant practice of other such gymnastics.

Glamour Boy Returns

The students of Loyola College were thrilled today by the sudden home-coming of Donald Powers, the screen's biggest heart-throb, who is an Alumnus of the school. He was literally mobbed by the rush of students seeking autographs. Mr. Powers is a Hollywood anomaly, and Loyola men everywhere point to him with pride. He is known not only as the screen's great lover, but also in private life as a staunch family man. When asked about his career, Don said, "Hollywood is not my all. It is wholly extrinsic to the real me. My heart is ever with my ten kiddies."

Mr. Powers was then asked if he had any budding Senior Class Presidents. Whereupon he uttered that assent, the simplicity of which has endeared him to the American public. "Why cert'n'y," he said.

Art Course To Be Given By Native Baltimorean

Beginning Monday 18th, Lawrence T. Mullen, former resident of Baltimore, will deliver the first lecture of a series on art at the Baltimore Museum. Mr. Mullen has been studying extensively abroad for the past fifteen years and he is now recognized as one of the leading "sur-realists" in the country. Mr. Mullen, when asked what activated his interest in this art, replied, "Ever since I was a small lad, I have had an appreciation of the beautiful; this appreciation led me to form a boyhood hobby, which resulted in the technique of working "jig-saw" puzzles. One day I dropped one of the puzzles which I had just completed and the panoramic view which appeared astonished me with its beauty—that day there was born to me the germ of Sur-realism."

"Disaster Avoided"

Today in the wee hours of the morning down in the Maryland Legislature, Amendment 13-13 was almost passed. This amendment states that there should be a special tax placed upon tea which is used at Afternoon Tea Dances. The revenues which would accrue from such a tax to be used for the Efficacious Eviction of Effervescent Old Men in Old Men's Homes. We say that this amendment was almost passed, but at the last moment Joseph J. Mack bounded from his seat. "I think," Mr. Mack said, jumping in the air, "I think we should reconsider the whole affair." Upon being asked why he had made such a statement, Senator Mack replied: "In my opinion, we have failed to take consideration of the fact that tea is never served at Afternoon Tea Dances. Besides this fact, even if tea were served. The Efficacious Eviction of Effervescent Old Men in Old Men's Homes would be Anti-apathetic Action Against Active Aged Adults."

"The Mis-Deal"

The Democratic and Republicans parties have finally joined together. They had to, in order to drown out the combined yodeling of Messrs. Bokemeyer, Little and McGonigle; the triumvirate which has started the new political party "The Mis-Deal." The primary purpose of "The Mis-Deal" according to C. Bokemeyer is "The usurpation of the right to vote of all citizens who do not vote for us." His colleague, "Bill" Little, the baby member of the trio, while louder than the rest, said nothing, so it is presumed that he agrees with Mr. McGonigle's most noteworthy utterance: "Wow!"

Niemoeller in Finals

For the fifteenth consecutive year Vernon "Fritz" Niemoeller, the Teutonic Tornado, has reached the finals at Forest Hills. Niemoeller, always a bundle of nervous energy, was particularly keyed up for this the supreme effort of his career.

"I'll show 'em. I'll show 'em," stormed the fiery veteran. "They say bald-headed men can't win the National championship. I'll show 'em."

Niemoeller seems to be in great shape. His backhand, lobs and chops have been working very well, but as usual he was most proficient in serving the "love" games.

All readers of this strip are invited "in toto" to a public performance of strength at the Maryland Theater this evening by Benjamin Stanislaus Marzal. According to his press agents, Mr. Marzal will thrill his audience with feats (not feets) of strength never viewed before. The "Blond Avalanche," as he is familiarly known, has a very unique practice; he is the only living creature that plays the game "Pick Up Sticks" with full grown pine trees. In his more playful moments, Ben has been known to indulge in the innocent sport of derailing street cars.

"RENOWNED SPORTSMAN'S SUMMER HOME BURGLARIZED"

Valuable Specimens Stolen

Newport, R. I.—Sometime during the late evening hours, Henry J. Brosenne, famed fisherman and country squire, returned to his summer estate at Bloomsbury Hills, and to his great dismay, found that during his absence, his house had been ransacked. This proved to be a great shock to the socially elite of this most exclusive summer colony, and an atmosphere of deep mystery prevailed. It seemed that the only thing that was stolen was a collection of prize stuffed fish, which had been caught in New England waters. According to Mr. Brosenne, this collection was the largest and most valued in the country. The loss was discovered by Mr. Brosenne himself, when he returned home last night to obtain a few of his specimens with which he hoped to substantiate statements which he had made at the weekly meeting of the "New England Fisherman's Club" of which he is President.

Today marks the advent of a new factor into the city's sports activity. The B.A.C. (Bracken Athletic Club) has formally declared its intention to participate in any and all athletic activities in the vicinity and thereabouts. Thomas E. Bracken, the President, made this announcement after a meeting of the officers today. T. E. Bracken said he would write an article to be published in the papers in the near future, while Tommy Bracken, the Treasurer, stated that the financial status of the club was at present in good condition. It is common knowledge that all out-door athletic activities will be handled by T. Edward Bracken, while the indoor activities would be handled by "Just Plain" Bracken. All agree, however, that the club will be a howling success.

LOVERS' NOOK
Advice to the Lovelorn
By ELMER F. DUNNE

Dear Uncle Elmer:

I am a young man eighteen years of age, a college freshman, deeply in love. (Please keep this confidential.) I am in hot water. There are three girls interfering with my scholastic activities. A and B both like me an awful lot. I like neither one. The third girl, C, is the one I love, but she doesn't even know me. Beset with these worries, I cannot study.

A friend of mine says that you have had great experience in such cases. Please help me.

A Worried Frosh.

Dear Worried Frosh:

Your situation is sad but indeed not new. From my past experience, I advise you to forget your troubles. Buy yourself a rowboat. Go for a long rowing cruise on Curtis Bay. I have found that this is most helpful when troubled with love. If this doesn't answer your difficulty, write again.

Your Uncle Elmer.

My Dear Uncle Elmer:

I am a young country girl in need of advice. I am nineteen years old, five feet four inches tall, weight 110 pounds, red-headed and considered beautiful by all my friends. My telephone number is Brooklyn 67569-J. Please answer my following questions:

1. Am I too tall or too heavy for my age?
2. Do you prefer blondes, brunettes or redheads?
3. Could you tell me what a girl should do on a date?

"Little Country Lass."

Dear Little Country Lass:

It gives me great pleasure to answer your questions.

1. You have a perfect physique.

2 and 3. I prefer to answer these questions with a personal interview. I shall call at 8.00 P. M. next Tuesday. OK?

Your Dear Uncle Elmer.

Smith Goes Hollywood

Another ham actor of the legitimate stage has left Broadway for Hollywood. The moguls of the cinema industry have finally induced William Smith to accept the title role of Tarzan in a new series of pictures which will go into production immediately.

We have it from a reliable source that Mr. Smith will get into the mood by spending the next two weeks roosting in the branches of a mulberry bush in Central Park. On being asked how he intended to develop a Tarzan yell, Mr. Smith replied: "Think nothing of it. I was the editor of my college year book and I screamed so loud and so long for copy from the laggards on the staff that I developed a call of amazing force and clarity."

Cyclone Hits Wrestling World

Wrestling fans in the eastern section of the United States have become staunch followers of the latest sensation in the "grunt and growl" racket. "The Human Cyclone" as he has been appropriately named, is none other than Anthony "Man Mountain" Dzwulski, who has successfully met and conquered the seven "so-called" champions of the world.

Looking for new fields to conquer, "Tony" has challenged any three men, wrestlers, boxers, lacrosse players, football stars and the like, to meet him in the same ring at the same time. All sports columnists predict a quick victory for Dzwulski. Mr. Dzwulski, as usual, was non-committal when questioned.

"TRAFFIC CASUALTIES EXPECTED TO DECREASE"

C. C. Murphy, Traffic Inspector, Engaged

During the past year, traffic fatalities have been increasing in our city tremendously. Heretofore, no efficient steps have been taken to end this menace. Potential murderers have been allowed to run freely, unapprehended. But at last, our city Patriarchs have come to the realization that something must be done. Hence, a resolution was passed yesterday by the Baltimore City Council to establish a Traffic Engineering Department.

C. Carroll Murphy, more commonly known as "Spotlight Murphy" was engaged to head this new department. In our opinion, Mr. Murphy is a most expert traffic engineer with years of experience. He differs from other members of his profession in the fact that he is a traffic regulator by nature. Ever since his college days, he has been known as "SpotLight Murphy," and has been able to make things stop and go. Add to this, his years of traffic experience and you can feel certain that Mr. Murphy will be most capable in his new position.

In the internationally famous Point-to-Point races at My-Man-Jeeves Estate yesterday, Mr. Bernard Bonaventure Lochte thrilled onlookers with the daring of his riding. At the start of the race, Mr. Lochte esconced himself on the hind quarters of his mount, but he evidently was not satisfied with this, so he proceeded to imitate with remarkable exactness the notorious act of the "Man on the Flying Trapeze." After performing various and sundry gymnastic activities, partly on and partly off the horse, he achieved a grand climax at the finish of the race by mimicking a wrestler's strangehold, the only difference being that Mr. Lochte's grip was on the horse. A statement after the race was given by Mr. Lochte in which he said, "Let's stand, instead of sit, at the bar!"

The Common Cold Cured

Drs. Michael DiVincentis and John Osborne were hailed today as benefactors of the human race when they announced that at last they had found a cure for the common cold. They told newspaper men that although their observations were not yet complete they were confident that in no time at all the common cold would be but an unpleasant memory.

"It's like this," said Dr. DiVincentis. "In Central Africa we found a deadly fever germ. When this is injected in the blood stream of the cold sufferer, he no longer has a cold."

It was then asked what was done about the deadly fever germ. Dr. Osborne drew himself up haughtily. "Do not rush us, gentlemen. Give us time please," he said. "We have not figured that out yet," he added with a perplexed frown.

Carney All Stars, 204— All Americans, 1

The Carney All Stars last night extended their winning streak to 3007 games. The victims were the All Americans, a collection of basketball stars who have been elected to Walter Damp's 1960 All Americans. As usual, Tom Carney, the father of the other four Carnes, who make up the team, led scoring with an even joints. Each of his sons abutted one point apiece.

Holtzner Held Over

Fritz Holtzner continued to pack them in this week for his startling dance recital. So big has been the attendance that Fritz will perform at the Armory during the coming week.

Critics have been loud but hazy in their acclaim. The consensus of the opinion would seem to indicate that Mr. Holtzner's interpretation of "modern moods and tempo" in motion is considered "significant" by those who should know but don't.

Particular interest is evident because it has been said that the dance originated right here in Baltimore. Mr. Holtzner attracted the attention of the critics while performing on the boxing team in his Freshman year at college. Even then his actions were very graceful and had such an abstract quality of aloofness that it was a source of constant wonder how he managed to dish out such shellackings.

Love's Labor Lost

Thomas J. Emory had the leading role in the famous Broadway success last night at Ford's Theater. The scintillating thespian presented another leading woman, a beautiful young lady whom Mr. Emory has introduced to the legitimate stage. She makes the fifteenth leading woman who has played opposite to Mr. Emory since the play made its appearance on Broadway at the beginning of the theater season. "Love's Labors Lost" is an excellent play and one adapted to Mr. Emory's genius. Critics have claimed that Mr. Emory's success is due to his naturalness upon the stage. Mr. Emory's sincerity and ability in this famous play is thought to be due to similar experiences in real life.

Frank Keidel, one-time National Amateur Golf Champion, leaped back into the public eye today. Since his retirement from golf competition, "Pop" Keidel has become more or less the forgotten man. This afternoon at the Evergreen Lawns Golf Club, he proved without a doubt that, though aging, he is the dean of American trick shot artists.

Upon his second attempt, he successfully drove a ball the amazing distance of 150 feet from the face of a very expensive watch. The less said about the first attempt the better. While the gallery stood in dumb amazement (plenty dumb) he truly opened wide his big bag of tricks. The grand finale came when "Pop" succeeded in hooking a drive into a clump of trees, which, after it had disappeared, sliced out again, and landed on the green! Some scoffers said that the trickster has his son hidden in the woods and that the shot was in reality two separate strokes. They (the scoffers) were promptly booted down.

STOP

STOP

*After the Dance

"COLD SPRING TAVERN"

LARGE BEERS FOR A SMALL PRICE

LUNCHEON SERVED

12-3 P. M.

BREAKFAST

1 A. M.-6 A. M.

*Editor's Note.—Please do not read this "ad." The bill for it has not been paid.

WARNING! WARNING!

Do your eyes bother you
Are you a habitual failure?
Are you hungry at mealtime?
Are you unpopular?
Are you opposed to arising at 5 A. M.
If you answer in the affirmative, YOU are a very sick man.

Be Careful

Drink "BUCKER UPPER" for Health's Sake

Risk No Money

Pay Only If You Recover
(Few Pay)

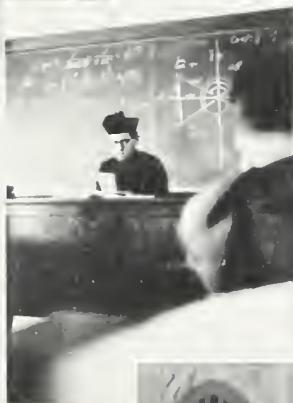

OPERATIONS WHILE YOU WAIT

DR. IMA QUACK, M.D., Ph.D.

MEDICAL ARTS BLDG.

Office Hours 10-12

FUNCTIONS

Our system of education demands the full, rounded development of the whole man. Who is there among us to deny that the social functions of our past year weren't a real part of this development? This year the cares that infest a college man's day were folded away in the instrument boxes of the orchestras of Baltimore. The social life of Loyola men was chiefly composed of a number of dances given by the classes, and the various clubs. At these activities new friends were made by the younger classmen, and the older ones in turn renewed the ties that bind them to alumni members. To the chairman and committees of each activity, we offer a word of congratulation upon their success.

The Junior Welcoming Dance

The inaugural social event of the year was a dance sponsored by the Junior Class as a welcome to the Freshmen. These latest members of our ranks had just about concluded that college was a world of text-books and paddles, when along came this welcome interlude in their trials. Johny White, one of our own Sophomores, ably conducted his Midshipmen whose music was of the best. This year the Library was illuminated by varicolored spotlights which made that hall of learning a parlor in the skies. The large crowd showed not only the spirit of the Freshmen and Juniors, but that during the coming year all Loyola would pull together.

The Sophomore Frolique

What would the Sophomore year be without the "Sophomore Frolique?" Annually, the Sophomores have the honor to raise the curtain on Loyola's formal social season. This year, they chose the ever-popular Cadoa as the scene of their piece de resistance. To enliven the hearts of all, the Thanksgiving Holidays were right around the week-end, and this fact, combined with the catchy rhythms of Rudy Killian made the dance everything a Frolique should be.

Loyola Night

Last year, Loyola Night was held as a means to bring together alumni, students and friends of the College. The idea was fine, and entertainment was of a high level, but the crowd was not so large. This year, Father Fremgen, the director and spirit of this night, excelled himself in every department. A splendid crowd gathered under the boxes of the Alcazar and witnessed entertainment such as was never before offered in the history of Loyola. The program consisted of music, drama and a dance. The Glee Club was by this time a poised, self-confident unit that any college would have been proud to call its own. J. O'Neill Miller, '37, who presented his own musical creations, was one of the high spots of this brilliant night. Thomas Leary, '36, who is a charter member of Loyola Night, returned to us as an alumnus and completely captured the entire audience with his renditions of Beethoven. The Dramatic Society presented two one-act plays, "The Lost Silk Hat" and "The Drowsy Dragoon," which future Thespians will find hard to equal. With the entertainment over, the hall was cleared of the seats, and the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing to the tunes of Billy Isaac and his Commanders. This entertainment, which belongs to no one class or club, is truly "Loyola Night."

The Christmas Dance

In an effort to raise funds for this year book, the class of '37 held the second Library Dance of the season on December 29. The Library once more lost its intellectual atmosphere by falling victim to the mysteries of indirect lighting under the guidance of Senior technicians. Earle Simpson's music held sway and the crooning of Prexy Powers and Johnny Wells was the real bright spot of the night. Who can forget "Adam Had 'Em?"

The Freshman Hop

Perhaps a bit dazed by the exams, the Freshman Class ventured to hold its Annual Hop at the swanky Merchant's Club on the night of January 21, the date which marked the close of all mid-year worries. Their daring was matched only by the brilliance of their dance. Walter Routson furnished the pleasing musical concoctions and the staff of the Merchant's Club did its best to insure a fine evening. To these first-year men we can only say that this was truly the finest Freshman Hop in the history of the school.

The Easter Dance

By now, the Library has become the most popular of places in which to hold school dances. The old nemesis of intellectual atmosphere, indirect lighting, won another victory by transforming the Library once more into another world. Bob Craig (local king of swing) gave the select crowd a real show, and for the first time the number attending permitted the more light-footed dancers to show the latest in jumping.

The Junior Prom

The class of '38 started off with a terrific task on its hands. The standard of the Loyola Prom had reached such a level that even to approach it was to call for a very fine dance. That the Juniors added another outstanding and successful Prom to the list of Loyola Proms is a great tribute to the committee of that class.

Russ Morgan, with his "Music in the Morgan Manner," was the watchword of the night. Haunting melodies, catchy tunes, and lilting strains made the Maryland Casualty Ballroom the only spot to be in on the night of April 30. "Linda Lee" was the band's show piece, and the Baltimore girls are still trying to repair the damage she caused among the city's eligible young bachelors.

Because of the reasonable price of the tickets, any hope of favors was dispensed with, but the dignity of the Promenade more than made everyone forget anything but its own stateliness.

Miss Courtney Jenkins, whose family is truly one of Loyola's first, as "Queen," led the procession, escorted by Dick Carey, President of Junior. A bouquet of roses was presented to Miss Jenkins by the Queen of last year's Prom, Miss Madeline Ullrich. To the Juniors we can say only: "Russ Morgan and Junior Proms should be synonymous"!

June Week

As our book goes to press, no definite June Week plans have been formulated. In the back of every Senior's head there is the hazy idea that there must be something coming after the final exams, but right now he cannot give more than two consecutive thoughts to anything but what he terms 'the last of his woes'. The June Week Committee will probably arrange a program similar to that of last year's graduates, in which the underclassmen shared in most of the affairs. The Senior Ball, and a Graduation Dance are sure to fall in line, along with a shore party at one of Maryland's beautiful beaches.

The Little Things

While enumerating the major functions of Loyola Life, we should not, and cannot forget, for want of a better name, "the little things" that make every day college life on the campus so interesting, pleasant and human. What more fitting than the little visits to our own chapel can we name on the list? Then there is the congenial atmosphere of the lunch room, where real friends are made and kept; the "rec" room, where "real" enemies are met and battled. The shady spots of the campus, the walks around the lake, the corridors, the halls, and the friendly smiles and encouragements of Brother Carey. "Hots" and "Gawge" are all a real, vital part of Loyola's social life. To these men and to these places may we of '37 say: "You may stand seemingly unnoticed and unhonored, but we will never forget you!"

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The Staff of the GREEN AND GRAY wishes to express its sincere appreciation to all those who, by their advice and assistance, lightened the task and in a large measure made this annual possible.

To Father Gillis goes an especial acknowledgment for his kind cooperation and constructive criticism in the role of Moderator.

To Father Fremgen for the use of the Greyhound office and frequent timely comment.

To our patrons for their necessary financial assistance.

To Mr. Schultz of Roebuck and Son for his expert technical advice.

To Mr. Brown of Zamsky, Inc. for his accomodations in the photographic work in the GREEN AND GRAY.

LOYOLA COLLEGE

EVERGREEN

85TH YEAR

BALTIMORE

A DISTINCTIVE COLLEGE — developing true men of character

A JESUIT COLLEGE — following a system used in 225
Jesuit colleges today

A CATHOLIC COLLEGE — imparting the Catholic cultural heritage of the ages

Degree Courses

In the Arts, Sciences and Business Administration

For Catalogue, write to Registrar, or phone Chesapeake 1020

Phone, University 3500-3501

George J. Storek and Son

LUMBER—MILLWORK

WALLBOARDS

CUSTOM MILLWORK

2406-18 GREENMOUNT AVENUE
BALTIMORE, MARYLAND

PEOPLE WITH

DISCRIMINATING TASTES

PREFER

Esskay - Quality

MEAT PRODUCTS

COLLEGE OF
Notre Dame

OF MARYLAND
N. CHARLES ST.
BALTIMORE, MD.

An Accredited Catholic Institution for the Higher Education of Women. Conducted by the School Sisters of Notre Dame. Exceptional Advantages.

FOR INFORMATION Address the Registrar

THE ARUNDEL CORPORATION

Baltimore, Md.

Constructors and Engineers

and

DISTRIBUTORS OF

SAND

GRAVEL and

COMMERCIAL SLAG

The New College Photography of Today!

It's the age of a new photography! Almost magical has been the development of equipment; surprising has been the photographer's cleverness and skill in using this new equipment, and most avid has been the college and school appetite for results of this definitely forward step in photography.

This is the story of a Studio that has kept abreast of the times, that has acquired the new equipment and whose operators have enthusiastically developed the technique of this new photography. This extra expense has been incurred and the effort extended with the sincere hope of offering to the colleges and schools a studio capable of producing today's modern photography.

When skill and service of such high order are available today, there is no reason why colleges and schools need accept mediocre photography.

Zamsky repeats again!

ZAMSKY STUDIO, INC.

902 Chestnut Street
Philadelphia, Pa.

Yale Record Bldg.
New Haven, Conn.

Tel. Catonsville | SPITTEL'S | Tel. Catonsville
21 | PHARMACY | 21

837 FREDERICK ROAD

ROBERT J. SPITTEL, Ph.G.

Have your doctor phone in the prescription and save those few valuable minutes

Prompt — Courteous — Efficient Service
AS NEAR TO YOU AS YOUR TELEPHONE

A. Jacobs and Sons

C U S T O M T A I L O R S

Uniform Manufacturers

209 W. FAYETTE STREET

BALTIMORE, MARYLAND

COMPLIMENTS

OF A

F r i e n d

Now available on all types of Buildings and Contents

Famous

8 — P O I N T
Policy

—protecting you completely and economically against the 8 ever-present dangers to property. Readily added by supplemental contract to existing fire policies.

C E N T R A L

Fire Insurance Co. of Baltimore
HOLIDAY AND FAYETTE STREETS

A. H. Fetting Co.

314 CHARLES STREET, NORTH

✓

Manufacturers and

Retailers of

D I A M O N D S

J E W E L R Y

W A T C H E S

S I L V E R

Compliments

of a

F R I E N D

The 1937 Green and Gray

The Modern Annual

Throughout its production, every care was exercised in building a year book which would be a credit to Loyola College, and to ourselves.

To school and college annual staffs everywhere, we offer our completely equipped plant, our years of college craftsman experience, willing service and quality printing.

H . G . R O E B U C K & S O N

119 W. Mulberry Street

BALTIMORE

Member of the College Annual Producers of the United States

